$3,200 Cash Found On Body of Girl

ROCKPORT, Ind. (AP)—State Police today found $3,200 hidden in the brassiere of a young girl whose body was discovered with that of a man buried in a field near here Sunday. Neither had been identified.

Most of the money was in $1 bills. There was one $500 bill. The only mark of identification police said they found was a match folder from a Louisville, Ky., night club.

Coroner Charles R. Fuller said the two apparently had been slain Saturday night.

Hunt 2 Escapees

GRAVENHURST, Ont. (CP)—Two German prisoners of war escaped from an internment camp in this Muskoka district early today. This afternoon roads were being watched and automobiles stopped and searched.

Gen. Crerar Coming

Soon to retire from the army after 35 years of service, Gen. Crerar will visit military districts in eastern and western Canada during the next three months.

Committee Meets To Talk Extension Of P.G.E. Railway

Premier John Hart's committee of experts on the proposed extension of the provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway and development of the British Columbia's northeastern natural resources got down to business at their first session at the Parliament Buildings today.

The six-man committee was welcomed by Premier Hart, and then went into camera discussions during which they will study various surveys of the P.G.E. and resources of the area through which the extended railway may run.

Members of the committee announced several weeks ago by the Premier are: J. M. Stewart, B.C. deputy minister of railways, who is serving as chairman until the committee is organized; C. R. Crysedale, B.C. government consultant engineer; Russell Yull of the National Harbors Board, Ottawa; Dominion government representative; S. W. Fairweather, C.N.R. vice-president in charge of research and development; Montreal; T. C. MacNabb, C.P.R. general superintendent, Saint John, N.B.; and H. C. Taylor, C.P.R. general superintendent, Moose Jaw.

A permanent chairman to succeed Mr. Stewart will probably be named today.

Purpose of the committee is to survey the various reports on the P.G.E. and following this the committee may tour the railway from Squamish to Prince George and also the territory through which the railway may be extended.

A vast amount of material has been gathered on these topics during several years.

Following the morning session the committee lunched with Premier Hart and members of the cabinet who were in Victoria today at the Union Club.

Premier Hart considers the development of the northeastern part of the province and extension of the railway as one of the high-priority subjects which his newly-elected Coalition government must deal with.

He is more anxious that the railway be extended and the northern country be developed than of possible disposition of the provincial railway to the C.N.R., C.P.R. or any other firm.

Civil War Reported In Northern China

6,000 Inspect H.M.C.S. Prince Robert

Crowds of Victorians swarmed over H.M.C.S. Prince Robert Sunday when the ship was thrown open for inspection in connection with the Victory Loan Drive. They are seen above crowding the decks where anti-aircraft guns and other equipment was demonstrated for their benefit. Picture at left shows part of vast crowd jamming the Ogden Point docks at ship's gangway.

Small British Force Surrounded By Horde of Indonesian Nationalists

By RALPH MORTON

BATAVIA (AP)—Indonesian Nationalists using armored cars and light tanks killed an estimated 25 members of the British Indian force at Soerabaja before President Soekarno of the "Indonesian Republic" was reported to have arranged a truce today at the big naval base.

A British officer made the casualty estimate but did not include pockets surrounded by the natives. The officer said many women and children in internment camps in the area had been killed by the natives.

COSTLIEST FIGHTING YET

The fighting at Soerabaja was the bloodiest of the Allied occupation of the island of Java. Military equipment which the natives had taken from the Japanese included at least 20 armored vehicles and machine guns and mortars; the officer said, adding that the hard-pressed British troops had used even their "cooks and cobblers" in the fighting.

Before the truce a couple of companies of the Rajputana Rifles fought desperately from the Darno Hospital and the British Consulate. A company of British engineers at the Darno Barracks and Darno Station, where the most bitter fighting took place, radioed: "Running out of ammunition. Unless you send help we'll be overrun."

One British company detailed eight men to protect a jail where there were 35 Dutch women and children. The company commander reported that he heard several shots at the jail followed by screams and said he feared the building had been overrun and the internees killed.

Soekarno rushed to Soerabaja in an R.A.F. plane in an attempt to get the natives to halt the fighting.

I flew with Soekarno and two of his cabinet into Soerabaja and returned to Batavia in the only plane to get in and out of the naval base. When we arrived we found the airport under fire and held up a thin patrol of British Maharrattas.

As a result of the subsequent truce firing died down in the headquarters area of the British 49th Brigade and in the centre and southwestern portions of Soerabaja. Some firing still was going on in other areas of the city, but it was reported the situation generally was quieted.

The first six hours of the battle were known to have taken the life of one Indian sepoy. A British officer and several Indian soldiers were reported wounded.

It still was not clear what touched off the outbreak. Leaflets had been dropped on the city warning unauthorized persons carrying arms to turn in their weapons by Wednesday under penalty of death. British army observers thought the leaflets might have been a partial cause of the clash.

A mysterious Indonesian whose name has been linked with the hostilities, named Moestopa, was reported to have fled the naval base. A British senior staff officer said that when he informed Soekarno Sunday night of what had happened, the Nationalist leader had said Moestopa held no official position in the native movement for independence from Dutch colonial control.

I arrived at Soerabaja with Soekarno's party before the truce was arranged and had a succession of lucky escapes. Shots whizzed over our plane shortly after we had alighted. Armed patrols took us to various trucks.

Soekarno's aide lifted high a red and white flag of Indonesia and we started through the native lines to a British battalion headquarters. There, the commander, Lt.-Col. A. Crookshank, showed a map of the battle area.

There were not more than 1,600 British troops in Soerabaja, and many of the units were surrounded by Indonesians who probably numbered in the tens of thousands.

Ford Peace Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell announced in the Commons this afternoon he had made a four-point proposal for settlement of the Ford strike at Windsor, Ont., to both the company and the union.

2. That the company facilitate return to work of all employees without discrimination on a basis of seniority.

3. That representatives of company and union meet with an umpire chosen by the government to seek a collective agreement.

4. That any terms of the agreement not agreed on by company and union representatives be settled by the umpire and that his decision shall be binding.

Chungking Force Sustains Losses In Heavy Battle

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING (AP)—Reports of heavy fighting between Chinese Communist and Central Government troops in North China pictured today a country locked in civil war—real though not officially declared.

Warfare is growing in intensity in Shantung, Shansi and Suiyuan Provinces, said dispatches received here.

The Chinese press attributed to Gen. Yen Hsi-shan, Governor of Shansi now visiting Chungking, a statement that government forces suffered 15,000 casualties and Communist losses "also were heavy" in fighting centred around Changchih, strategic town in southeastern Shansi which Yen conceded the Reds had captured.

Independent reports said wherever the Communists were retreating along railways they were destroying tracks and blowing up bridges.

This explained the slow movement of President Chiang Kai-shek's troops which are proceeding along the Peiping-Hankow and Tientsin-Pootung railroads to replace United States marines in the Peiping-Tientsin area.

Russians Reported Aiding Communists

Insistent reports that the Russians were supplying the Communists with captured Japanese war material continued to circulate in Chungking, but no one in authority would allow himself to be quoted.

Other reports told of bitter fighting in 11 provinces, mostly in Northern China, but including central parts of the country and Kwangtung province, on the southeast coast.

The New China Daily News, Communist publication, estimated 800,000 Central government troops were battling the Reds. Neutral observers believed this figure was exaggerated, but all quarters conceded the fighting was serious.

"We cannot consider the situation represents a civil war until Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek openly proclaims it to be so and calls the Communists rebels," said an official Communist spokesman.

Believe Chiang To Open Offensive

Sources favoring Chiang's government said they believed the only way to unify the nation was to eliminate the Communists, which they said they thought Chiang could do with an all-out, well-executed campaign in from three to six months.

These sources said they believed Chiang would start a smashing campaign against the Communists were he not apprehensive over the reaction from other countries and the possibility Russia might support the Reds.

A Communist spokesman in Chungking clearly indicated the Reds would continue to fight rather than allow Central government forces any free passage along communication lines to North China.

The Communists announced capture of Linmingwang, a railroad town near Tzschien in southern Hopei province, after inflicting heavy losses on "puppet troops."

Island Support for Ninth Victory Loan Continues High

The 9th Victory Loan campaign shows no signs of slackening on Vancouver Island as it enters its second week with 46 per cent of quota already subscribed, and with Alberni-West Coast division continuing to pace the Island with 92.8 per cent of quota in.

Victoria continues well ahead of the 8th Loan totals with $3,902,500 on an $8,400,000 or 46.5 per cent of quota subscribed. Shipyard workers at V.M.D. are setting a Victory Loan record which will be difficult to match. Despite a large decrease in the number of their employees because of layoffs, the employees left more than doubled their quota.

Announcing the achievement, the Victory Loan chairman, Claude Francis, declared it was an expression of the workers' determination to secure adequate rehabilitation measures for all ex-servicemen and proper treatment and care for the incapacitated. The Pacific Furniture Manufacturing Co. has now obtained its honor quota.

Group payroll firms exceeding their objectives are A. K. Love Ltd., Terry's (1939) Ltd., and Falconer Marine Industries. The most striking aspect of the huge influx of subscriptions so early in the campaign is the number of large applications being received from both individuals and business firms, loan officials said today.

It is now generally realized that this is to be the last loan for 12 months, and that it may be the last opportunity to purchase Dominion government bonds at 3 per cent, and this factor is influencing many buyers.

Employees, purchasing under the payroll plans, are taking advantage of the feature which enables them to spread their payments over the 12-month period and doubling up on purchases.

Figures to date, including the quota subscribed, are as follows:

	Quota	Subscribed
Greater Victoria	$8,400,000	$3,902,500
Islands	1,375,000	382,300
Cowichan-Duncan	1,100,000	390,300
Courtenay-Comox	150,000	315,500
Nanaimo	1,075,000	446,000
Alberni-West Coast	625,000	580,100
Ladsmith	200,000	154,700
	$13,425,000	$6,171,200

Cabinet Appointment After Final Vote Count

Education Minister H. G. T. Perry, who was defeated at the polls during Thursday's provincial general election, will continue in his portfolio until after the final count of election ballots, Premier John Hart indicated today.

With approximately a 300-vote deficit to equal his C.C.F. opponent's poll, Mr. Perry will not be replaced until after Nov. 15 when the official count, which will integrate the civilian and service votes, will be tabulated.

Dr. G. M. Weir, Liberal and former education minister, who has been elected in Vancouver, is suggested as in line for the appointment, although in some sections opinion indicates an up-country, rather than a Vancouver member may be named to the portfolio.

Canada Takes Over Port Works U.S. Built At Prince Rupert

OTTAWA (CP)—About $16,000,000 worth of U.S.-built port facilities at Prince Rupert are being turned over to Canada under terms of an agreement announced by Prime Minister King yesterday, it was announced here today.

An External Affairs Department spokesman said the Prince Rupert facilities were the largest item covered under terms of a Canadian-U.S. agreement providing for the disposal of both American movables and immovables introduced as defence measures in Canada's northern areas.

Facilities such as the Alaska Highway were covered by separate agreements.

(A report in the New York Journal-American said Canada would reimburse the U.S. by an amount to be determined through appraisal and agreement regarding the present value of the installations.)

Attlee Discusses Visiting Truman Before Christmas

LONDON (Reuter)—The London Evening Standard said today Prime Minister Attlee probably will visit the United States before Christmas to have a "full and frank" discussion with President Truman on international affairs.

No. 10 Downing Street declined to confirm or deny the report.

The Press Association and the Exchange Telegraph said Mr. Attlee had discussed with the cabinet the advisability of his visiting the United States.

(In Washington, Eben Ayers, assistant White House press secretary, told a press conference he knew nothing about a contemplated visit by Mr. Attlee. However, an authoritative source who declined to give his name said today the Prime Minister had decided to visit Washington within the next three weeks.)

Truman Cancels Trips

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today canceled all of his scheduled out-of-town trips. His decision was attributed to heavy pressure of business in Washington.

Philipinos Testify

At Yamashita Trial On Murders By Japs

MANILA (Reuter)—Nurse Gliceria Andaya, Filipino heroine of the Red Cross building incident in Manila in which it is alleged 400 men, women and children were killed with hand grenades, today testified at the trial of Gen. Hobun Yamashita on war criminal charges.

She said she was stabbed in the left breast with a bayonet when she remonstrated with the Japanese commanding officer after she had seen a woman rushing into the building holding the body of a bayoneted baby in her arms.

She saw a Japanese soldier shoot a three-year-old in the face three times and 20 women and children killed by shooting and bayoneting, she told the court.

The trial opened Sunday morning before a United States Military Commission with an exchange of legal fencing. Defence counsel consistently was overruled in its efforts to block the trial of Japan's No. 1 war lord in the Philippines.

Patricia Abad, 26, with an arm in a sling, recounted a tale of savagery and bloodlust of four Japanese sailors who were part of the Manila defence command. Yamashita wore banks of ribbons on his grey green open-collared shirt as the trial opened.

Policeman Fires On Burglars Escaping With Meat Tokens

Shots fired by Constable Walter Patterson failed to halt a man and girl who fled from the Monterey Market, Oak Bay Avenue, early this morning when they heard the constable at the rear of the store.

Constable Patterson discovered while on patrol that a window at the back of the store had been broken. He heard the crash of broken glass at the front of the store, and running to Oak Bay Avenue, found that a man and girl had broken the glass of the front door and were escaping.

The man, ignoring the constable's revolver shots, made his escape north on Monterey Avenue while the girl ran down Oak Bay Avenue.

Subsequent investigation revealed the pair had piled a large quantity of meat and eggs ready to take from the store, leaving it behind when they were scared off. However, about 400 meat tokens were reported stolen.

5 Boys Die in Fire As Mother Giving Birth to Another

HAILEYBURY, Ont. (CP) — Fire which started from the explosion of a coal oil can swept through the log cabin home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harquard, 20 miles south of this northern Ontario community, late Saturday night, and claimed the lives of their five young sons, who were burned to death in their beds.

Half an hour later, 23-year-old Mrs. Harquard, unattended by doctor or midwife, gave birth to her seventh son as a new Lisheard resident rushed her 27-year-old husband to the Haileybury hospital for treatment for burns suffered when the coal oil caught fire.

The tragic sequence of events which nearly wiped out the family began when Harquard tried to get more heat from a box stove so that his wife would be comfortable while he drove his truck nine miles where he could telephone a doctor that the time for the confinement had come.

BLAZING OIL SPLASHED
As Harquard poured coal oil over the stubborn fire in the box stove, the kerosene can exploded, splashing blazing oil around the room and setting Harquard's clothing ablaze.

He dashed from the cabin, followed by his wife, who threw a blanket around him to smother the flames. Together, they beat out the fire on the oil-soaked clothing.

By that time, the fire inside the cabin had gained headway. Flames were shooting from its one door, making it impossible for the couple to attempt to rescue the five little boys who had been sleeping when the fire started.

Mrs. Harquard then walked a half-mile to her nearest neighbor's house where, soon after her arrival, her seventh son was born (one son having died in infancy, years ago).

An ambulance later conveyed her to Haileybury, where hospital officials Sunday reported her condition satisfactory. Harquard, although painfully burned, is not believed to be injured critically.

Port Coquitlam Man Killed By Interurban

VANCOUVER (CP) — Joseph Sidaway, 67, of Port Coquitlam, was killed Saturday when run over by a Vancouver-bound B.C.E.R. interurban at Abbotsford, 75 miles southeast of here. Police said Sidaway was walking on the devil strips and it is believed that when he heard the whistle of the approaching train he stepped on the wrong track to get out of its way. Sidaway was a retired C.P.R. fireman and had no relatives in B.C.

Headless Chicken Gaining Weight

FRUITA, Colo. (AP) — Mike, five-month-old White Wyandott cockerel, has gained a pound since his head was cut off 49 days ago.

L. A. Olson of Fruita, Mike's owner, said the chicken weighed 3½ pounds the morning of Sept. 10, when it was beheaded, and now tips the scales at 4½ pounds. The cockerel is at Long Beach, Calif., where it is being exhibited.

Scientists who examined the bird said the reason for its existence, despite the loss of its head, was that the basal portion of the brain remained connected to the spinal cord and the throat and windpipe were left intact, according to Olson. However, another chicken was beheaded in the same manner for experimental purposes, it died almost immediately, he said.

Mike is fed small amounts of food several times daily. He is given liquids with an eye-dropper and corn is dropped into his open throat. Mike's toenails are kept taped to prevent him from scratching or injuring his neck where the axe wound is healed over.

Mike moves about, flaps his wings when prodded and sometimes attempts to crow.

Will Seek Volunteers For Deerholme Search

B.C. Police will seek volunteers in the Duncan area next weekend to carry out a complete organized search as possible for the body of James Howe, 33-year-old farmer who disappeared last Monday morning in the vicinity of his Deerholme farm while out looking for a steer.

An appeal made Saturday for volunteers to help in an organized search brought poor response. However, a small party has carefully searched an area 12,000 feet by 6,000 feet since last Tuesday. The district is difficult to search, second-growth trees having grown in a slashed area.

No Underground In Germany; Nazism Apparently Dead

By ROSS MUNRO

BERLIN (CP)—One of the most striking features of Germany today is the apparent failure of a German underground movement to become established.

The defeat of Germany was so complete that the proposed underground resistance, which many Allied leaders were convinced last spring would be a thorn in the side of occupation, seems to have died with Hitler's Reich.

Some organized resistance to occupation may develop in time, but documents uncovered by British intelligence disclose that the strong postwar resistance, which was elaborately planned, was conditional on continued military defence of the so-called "National Redoubt" in Bavaria.

There Hitler, his favorite henchmen and picked units of the S.S. were to hold out in mountain strongholds, but that proved impossible and the plan was abandoned.

As a result the resistance scheme collapsed. The early werewolf campaign was almost a total failure. Nothing else seems to have developed.

TRAVEL UNARMED

For instance, I recently drove through the British zone, covering one-third of Germany, and on to Berlin through 125 miles of Russian zone without incident and without hearing of a single confirmed case of underground activity. I traveled unarmed in a jeep with a Canadian army driver and at no time did we feel any uneasiness.

The fundamental reason for this unexpected situation is the total collapse of Nazism. This collapse has been moral as well as physical and Nazism has no real martyr for its cause.

In my travels, I only found one German family—here in Berlin—which admitted frankly it was Nazi. The head of the family said all the members of the had been members of the Nazi party or affiliated Hitler organizations.

This was an exceptional admission, for the vast majority of Germans deny Nazi association or tendencies. Anti-Nazism is becoming the new orthodoxy in Germany.

Control authorities has had a terrific impact on the Germans. Now you find practically all of them disowning their old creed of power and nationalism.

German nationalism and militarism may, of course, reassert itself as it did after 1918, but it will not be associated with the National Socialism of the Nazis.

The swastika is a dead emblem in Germany today.

Secretary Byrnes threatening to oppose on the Senate floor any U.S. move to accept responsibility for establishing a Jewish state in Palestine.

Senator Bailey said he had read news reports the British government was willing to consider favorably President Truman's request for admission of 100,000 Jews to Palestine if the United States would help furnish armed forces to quell any trouble that might arise.

But Senator Taft told a reporter he was satisfied the British authorities are not seriously suggesting any such action by the United States.

New R.A.F. Fighter Speed 540 m.p.h.

LONDON (CP)—Britain's standard R.A.F. Vampire, a jet-propelled fighter, has a normal top speed of 540 miles an hour, the highest yet claimed for any operational fighting plane, it was officially announced at the week-end.

This speed can be maintained by a fully equipped and loaded plane for "long periods of level flight," the announcement said, adding that higher speeds have been obtained experimentally.

The twin-tailed Vampire is powered by a De Havilland Goblin turbo-jet engine.

Wants Britain-U.S. To Survey Palestine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Robert A. Taft (Rep.-Ohio) said today the United States should join with Britain in a survey to determine how many Jews can and should be sent to Palestine.

The Ohio senator made this proposal after publication of a letter Senator Josiah W. Bailey (Dem.-N.C.) had written State

Their Job is FINISHED... Ours is NOT!

WITH the fighting over, the men and women of Canada's armed forces have finished their job. They have earned a grateful welcome and all the happiness that peace can bring them.

If we are to have a peace-time Canada worthy of them, we must each help to carry the continuing financial burdens that are as much a part of the war as was the fighting itself.

Unless we do so, we shall not achieve the ends for which so many paid so high a price.

B.C. Leads Dominion In Percentage Of Payroll Loan Subscriptions

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's 9th Victory Loan campaign entered its second week today with approximately $1,000,000,000 to go to reach the $1,500,000,000 minimum objective within the remaining fortnight.

Tabulators at National War Finance Committee headquarters said they had no new figures from those issued Saturday, because of the Sunday lay-off in sales. But they said emphasis in this biggest of all war loan drives was on the individual purchaser and calculated the average individual purchase at $396.51 so far, compared with $264.08 in the 8th Loan drive last spring.

At the close of the first week of campaigning Saturday, cumulative sales totaled $499,185,250 compared with $432,008,000 for the opening week of the 8th campaign. Saturday sales alone were $93,099,700 against $75,980,750.

As of Saturday, total sales to individuals reached $256,870,000 towards the general sales and payroll purchase objective of $800,000,000. The figure compared with $221,100,650 at the corresponding date last spring.

In general payroll savings purchases, British Columbia-Yukon provincial area climbed to 58.89 per cent of its quota. Manitoba had 53.3 per cent, and Prince Edward Island was in third place with 45.39 per cent. Nova Scotia was not far below its neighbor, with 43.22 per cent, and Ontario's 41.15 per cent brought it only slightly above the third Maritime, New Brunswick, which had 40.7 per cent.

Next came Quebec with 38 per cent, almost tied with Alberta's 37.7. Saskatchewan, whose crops have "taken it on the chin" worse than any others in Canada, had achieved only 27.39 per cent of quota thus far, but was making untiring efforts towards fulfilling her complete objective.

Saturday's special names sales were highlighted by a purchase of $30,000,000 in bonds by the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, announced in Montreal by Arthur B. Wood, president and managing director.

Other large sales included Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Co., Winnipeg, $3,000,000; Workmen's Compensation Board, Vancouver, $2,500,000; City of Vancouver Sinking Fund, $800,000; and Woodward Stores Ltd., Vancouver, $750,000.

A steady gale of war service gratuity applications swept the Royal Canadian Navy to $3,433,900, 22 per cent beyond its objective.

The Canadian Army reached a total of $22,903,150, for 170 per cent of its objective.

One per cent ahead of the Army came the R.C.A.F., with every command above its objective and 171 per cent of the total aim attained—$11,099,450.

The report of U.S. Ambassador, W. Averell Harriman that Premier Stalin is not ill, as had been widely rumored, but in good health, is big news.

As supreme and unquestioned head of the Soviet Union, Stalin wields such vast individual power that fate most certainly would be making a rash gamble if she removed him from control at this moment of world crisis.

The broad strategy for the whole Soviet effort is said to have been his, and it is the opinion of experts that Stalin is one of the great strategists of his time.

The political strategy of Russia is credited to him. And from the time he took over leadership after Lenin's death, we find him charting the great Soviet industrial program, after ousting the fiery Trotsky who wanted to throw all Russia's energy into making world revolution.

You could not remove a captaincy like Stalin's without at least temporarily causing confusion in Russia and consequently over globe at large. This could easily produce grave results in the midst of the critical situation which now exists throughout Europe and Asia, and will continue for many months.

It is encouraging to hear from well-informed quarters in Moscow that the new exchange of views between Premier Stalin and President Truman—for which Mr. Harriman acted as medium—may have an important bearing on future collaboration among the Allies.

Relations among the all-important Big Three have encountered tough going lately. They are uncomfortably far apart on some issues such as the status of the Bulgarian and Romanian governments which are strongly communistic and do not, in the view of Britain and the United States, represent their people as a whole.

Stage Door Canteen At New York Closes

NEW YORK (AP)—New York city's famed Stage Door Canteen was darkened Sunday night—closing after a fine, long run.

As the dance began, the battered old juke box softly played "Goodnight Sweetheart," a nightly finale for the more than 3,000,000 servicemen entertained at the canteen since March 2, 1942.

Snow in Alberta

EDMONTON (CP)—An eight-inch snowfall, accompanied by 6-above weather, hit Edmonton during the week-end. Snow-piled and icy roads accounted for scores of automobile accidents and 10 persons were taken to hospitals suffering from injuries as a result of car crashes and falls.

Traffic on the south side was snarled for more than an hour early Saturday night when more than 30 cars were stalled.

Year's Training for Youth With Emphasis On Health, Endorsed

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

TORONTO — The public of Canada, in spite of such important recent developments as the end-of-the-war, atomic power, and so forth, sticks to its belief that compulsory peace-time training for youth is a desirable thing.

And while the public would like such training to include compulsory training, there is strong support for the idea that the emphasis should be on physical fitness and health.

Here is the first question, asked and presented to voters by the Gallup Poll:

"It has been suggested that every young man should be required to put in one complete year of training—a sort of peace-time draft—for military training, health and physical fitness, and to help in developing Canada's natural resources. Would you approve or disapprove if this were done?"

The results are very much in line with those obtained when the issue was put to the voters in various forms during the war years: Approve 71 per cent, disapprove 13 per cent; undecided and qualified 11 per cent.

Then came the second question, whatever their answer to the first question:

"If this were done, would you favor placing the main emphasis on military training, or on health and physical fitness, or on work in developing Canada's natural resources?"

In order, votes went as follows: Health and physical fitness 33 per cent, equal emphasis on all three 25 per cent, work in developing natural resources 19 per cent, military training 14 per cent, don't want it at all 5 per cent, undecided 4 per cent.

While younger voters (that is, the age group between 21 and 29 years), are less in favor of compulsory training than are the older groups, nevertheless they would show the sizable majority of 66 per cent favoring the idea, compared with 21 per cent of the 30 to 49 year age group, and 73 per cent of the age group 50 years and over.

The public has been surprisingly consistent on this issue of postwar youth training. In March, 1943, the Institute reported that 56 per cent approved compulsory peace-time military training. In November, 1944, another Institute poll reported that 60 per cent voted for a year's peace-time military service. Again, in March of this year, when the Institute's question included the phrase "even if this (military training) meant these young men would have to leave their homes for a year" 60 per cent voted for the proposal.

The fact that hostilities have stopped has not altered the public's views.

A recent poll on a similar issue in United States showed 69 per cent of the public in that country approving.

Early Tests Facing President's Outline of U.S. Foreign Policy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Myriad international problems held promise today of early and critical tests for President Truman's newly-proclaimed 12-point foreign policy.

One touchy point may disappear. This concerns Russia's demand for an Allied Control Council for Japan. The issue may be compromised in the near future.

The brightest spot diplomatic authorities see in the international situation is evidence of improving Russian-American relations. The optimism stems from the friendly reception accorded the United States Ambassador, W. Averell Harriman, when he delivered a personal message from Mr. Truman to Premier Stalin last week.

The nature of the message and of Stalin's reply have not been disclosed. There was some relief in Washington that negotiations over policy details, particularly respecting European peace treaties and the Japan Control Council, are still in progress.

RUSSIA NOT IN YET

Here are the main international problems which President Truman and State Secretary Byrnes must reckon with in the weeks immediately ahead and in the light of Mr. Truman's foreign policy declaration in New York Saturday.

Japan—Representatives of the main victor nations in the Pacific war will meet tomorrow at the State Department to organize a "Far Eastern Advisory Commission" primarily to consult on future Japanese control policies. Russia is the only one of 10 nations initially scheduled to participate which has not yet designated a delegate, but officials are hopeful she will attend.

Russia's delay has been attributed to her insistence that before the commission meets the Allies should agree to a control council for Japan. A compromise was considered possible along the lines of an Allied agreement to set up an administrative council later on. Presumably this would have to be acceptable to Gen. MacArthur. It is understood he has been kept informed on all negotiations with Moscow about this.

The Balkans—One of President Truman's dozen foreign policy principles is that his government will not recognize any other government imposed by outside force on a country. His state-ment was generally interpreted here as applying to the Balkans. The United States has been critical of Russia's political policies, particularly in Romania and Bulgaria.

Palestine—This is a problem between Britain and the United States over admittance of Jewish refugees from Europe to Palestine. But it involves the broad question of maintaining peace and order in the Arab-dominated, oil-rich, strategic Middle East. Prime Minister Attlee is expected soon to make some public counter-proposals to Mr. Truman's recent suggestion that 100,000 Jews be admitted to Palestine.

Dardanelles—Russia's treaty of friendship and non-aggression with Turkey will expire next week. That may signal intensified Soviet pressure for bases on the straits connecting the Black Sea and the Mediterranean, as well as for new privileges for Russia in using the straits. Mr. Truman's speech stressed the principle of equal rights to strategic waterways.

FUTURE OF AMERICA

Inter-American Defence—The Pan-American Union is scheduled to decide Nov. 20 the date of the once-delayed inter-American defence conference at Rio de Janeiro. Mr. Truman said in his speech that the United States believes the Americas must be permitted to work out their own problems without outside interference.

British Loans—Negotiations have reached the crucial stage in Britain's request for multi-billion-dollar financial assistance from the United States. American negotiators who formerly talked of a $5,000,000,000 loan recently decided Congress would balk at that much and now talk of $4,000,000,000. It is a question whether the British government will consider the total and the terms acceptable.

Atomic Bomb—Mr. Truman announced that talks with Britain and Canada and then with other countries would be undertaken in the near future to decide on a free exchange of scientific information without any disclosure of industrial secrets of the bomb's manufacture.

Ottawa Detective Shot By Gunman Dies After 5 Days

OTTAWA (CP)—Detective Thomas Stoneman of the Ottawa police force died in a hospital today following a five-day fight for life which ended when pneumonia complicated the critical lung wound he suffered when shot in a street fight last Wednesday.

Police said the attempted murder charges against Wilfred d'Amour, 25; Eugene Lambert, 24 and Albert Henderson, 24, all of Ottawa, would be automatically raised to murder when the men appear in court Nov. 1.

The 32-year-old detective was shot point-blank through the shoulder when he grappled with one of three men who had been prowling about parked cars. Lambert and d'Amour were arrested at the scene after a back-alley chase and gunfire and Henderson was picked up in a downtown rooming house later in the day.

Their connection with the Oct. 22 burglary of three sub-machine guns and six automatic pistols from the Canadian War Museum and a district store robbery was established and the weapons and other assorted loot recovered.

Stoneman wavered between life and death for two days and then showed signs of improvement after a series of blood transfusions. No operation to remove the bullet from his lung was possible and death followed development of pneumonia during the week-end.

A native of Morthlach, Sask., he was one of the best-known and most popular members of the Ottawa police department.

Surviving him are the widow, two-year-old twins, Richard and Jill, his father, J. A. Stoneman of the transport commission, and two sisters.

MR. TRUMAN ANXIOUS?

A PART FROM SENSATIONAL RUMORS and speculation not always based on sound ground, ample evidence is visible to the uninitiated to suggest that all is not as well as might be between the "Big Three" of the United Nations. Inability of the Council of Foreign Ministers to reach agreement on vital peace-making policies, disturbances in Oriental and Occidental lands with serious potentialities, and continuous outbreaks of strife on numerous industrial fronts furnish a collection of problems which call for calm discussion—plus a rededication to the principles that emerged with such hope from the San Francisco Conference.

These myriad international problems have taken on new significance in the light of the speech which President Truman delivered in New York on Saturday—one of the most important pronouncements he has made since he entered the White House last April. And the fact that the chief executive used the occasion to reiterate the policies to which his predecessor had dedicated himself, with variants dictated by circumstances which the advent of peace produced, would seem to indicate that the United States will resume the initiative in a new attempt to clarify the international atmosphere. As Mr. John M. Hightower, the able foreign editor of the Associated Press in Washington, points out today, the brightest spot on the world's troubled horizon is the friendly reception which Generalissimo Stalin accorded Mr. Averell Harriman when he delivered Mr. Truman's personal message to the Russian leader last week. What was said in that communication, and what its recipient has replied, of course, may not be known for several days.

While the President's 12-point program on United States foreign policy included specific references to new problems—such as, for example, the "destiny" of the atomic bomb—much of it was not especially original. But the fact that Mr. Truman employed it as a text on which to hang an implied appeal for exploration of what all the world is all to the good. Only a few days ago, it will be recalled, the chief executive announced that no early meeting of the "Big Three" was under consideration. Since then, however, the state of affairs in so many areas has gone from bad to worse. Hence, the President's message to Generalissimo Stalin, coupled with the New York speech, may well have a bearing upon official anxiety in many of the United Nations' capitals.

CHINA AND WORLD PEACE

AS HOPES FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT of internal peace in China fade with the increased tempo of battle between Central Government troops and Chinese Communists, new problems arise to plague a world which has seen the possibility of maintaining order only through concerted action in all spheres by the "Big Three." It has been generally conceded that Britain, the United States and Russia, bringing their united pressure to bear on any one militant faction, could forestall a resort to arms to settle differences. Following the recent Sino-Russian agreement, it was believed such a condition had been exemplified in China. As long as clashes in various provinces were of a minor character they were capable of explanation as unauthorized flare-ups of a relatively local nature.

Today's reports, however, indicate the scale of fighting in the northern provinces has extended to a point where civil war exists in fact, although no declaration has been made. The condition is further aggravated by persistent reports that the Communists are using captured Japanese war material made available to them by the Russians. Happily, Chungking sources of those reports do not include authoritative spokesmen; but the implication is there. If it is to be credited, the action would lend itself admirably to the support of arguments of anti-Russian elements which point to the feasibility of the Chinese Communists establishing independent control of northern China for eventual secession from the Republic and union with the U.S.S.R. That may be a domestic issue worthy of study. But where does it place the other members of the "Big Three"? Throughout the war the United States and Britain made common cause with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek against the Oriental member of the Axis. True, there were many points in the Chinese leader's program which did not meet with approval from his Occidental allies, but he was accepted as the voice of China and the core of that republic's opposition to the Japanese. If the division between his government and the Communists spreads to include a split between the members of the "Big Three," the outlook for future harmony and peace would be dim indeed.

In view of the turn of events in China, as well as unsettled conditions elsewhere and the general uneasiness over policy differences between Russia and her major allies, it might be well if the heads of the world's leading states gathered again to iron out existing troubles. They alone appear capable of dispelling the suspicion which is growing to dangerous proportions.

AFTER THURSDAY'S VERDICT

SOME OF THE REASONS WITH WHICH leading C.C.F. candidates are attempting to explain their defeat at the polls last Thursday are interesting. One member of the Legislature for a Vancouver riding, for example, professed to be much more pleased with the growth of the party's popular vote since 1937 than dismayed by the loss to the government of so many key seats in 1945.

Mr. Winch uses several if's and but's in his comment; but he is by no means naive. The election convinced him that "the C.C.F. is not ready to take office until it is able to win a majority over all other parties. . . . This ensures that, when the C.C.F. finally comes to power, it will form a stable government, not elected on any minority vote." Having said that much, of course, the Socialist leader presumably will toy with the time element as he meets the next Legislature—minus all his experienced debaters. The Coalition forces, however, will do well to note that categorical remark to which Mr. Winch gave voice immediately he learned the verdict of the electorate. His party intended to resume its work for victory at nine o'clock the next morning. In that one simple sentence is a challenge to the Hart-Maitland government. The Premier and the Attorney-General owe it to the majority of the people of British Columbia to take such steps as will insure the establishment of a Coalition Party. Thursday's decision should be accepted as an instruction to end permanently the traditional provincial squabbles between the two old-line parties.

Postmortems of last Friday and Saturday did not include "explanations" from those who opposed the Coalition out of sheer pique, or from those who sought to interest the electorate in the mysteries of Social Credit—except the candidate who embraced the "funny money" philosophy in the Peace River riding solely to annoy the Hart-Maitland combination. She split the vote and presented the seat to the C.C.F. Her husband, animated by the same desire, ended up at the bottom of the poll as an Independent Liberal Progressive in Lillooet, with less than a hundred votes.

The two officially-disowned Independent Progressive-Conservatives who ran in Victoria and Saanich, respectively, may have enjoyed themselves during the three or four weeks preceding election day. Neither they nor their sponsor could have got much fun out of the result. They, too, however, had their fling and indulged their peculiar type of peeve.

LOAN GOES WELL

CANADA'S NINTH VICTORY LOAN campaign entered its second week this morning with a trifle more than one-third of the minimum objective of $1,500,000,000 attained. Not only is this an excellent augury for the complete success of this latest appeal to the people; it also represents a clear understanding of national requirements. It is neither new nor novel to say that Canadians know a good investment when they see one. Their response in the first six days demonstrates anew how the great majority of our people have acquired the saving habit, how they have grown accustomed to that comfortable feeling which the semi-annual clipping of coupons generates, and how they relate the lending of money to the government to the policy of building up their own financial reserves against the day when the gap between the present short supply of consumer goods and purchasing volume will be spanned. The first week's return, likewise, is another manifestation of the popular belief in the nation's basic policies in the transition period.

As the campaign progresses, moreover, the prospect of substantial over-subscription will become more apparent still. Unlike the previous loans, this appeal for funds is essentially popular because it permits the individual subscriber to spread his or her installments over a whole year instead of six months. While more than 3,000,000 Canadians already have substantial holdings of Victory Bonds, of course, this longer time in which to make the investment will undoubtedly induce others who have hitherto hesitated to become possessors of these gilded securities. In any event, Mr. Hilsley's hope that two billions will have been subscribed before the books close two weeks hence seems certain to be realized, for the greater the response the greater advantage all round.

A BRIGHTER SUNSET

THE SATISFACTION OF ACTIVE WORKERS for the Victoria Nursing Home will be shared by Victorians generally over completion of appropriate quarters on the old Crow Baker estate for elderly citizens in need of a measure of care which is not so technically professional as that provided by hospitals. There have been many hurdles to surmount since the dwelling was first selected for the purpose to which it is now devoted. Yet, despite disappointments and delays, it has been brought into being as a cheery centre in which many may find greater enjoyment in the sunset of life.

If the minds of some who have given outstanding voluntary service in the establishment of the home, the present building is the beginning of a scheme that may be developed for the benefit of many more in need of such treatment. A boon to the hospitals, from which it will take nursing cases, it will fill a highly useful function in Victoria's social organization. In addition to providing this care, it will furnish patients with an attractive environment and encourage interests and activities to brighten hours which might otherwise be grey.

Through the establishment of this home, another step has been taken to improve the lot of those whose condition inspires the widest sympathy.

THE HARD WAY

THE BURDEN of proof is, quite clearly, upon those of us who favor compulsory military training in time of peace. It is asking a lot of a young man that he should interrupt his education, or put off earning his living, for one year. The years between 18 and 20 are very precious years in a young man's life. He and his parents must be shown that this sacrifice is necessary, and then that the government has a program for the training which will not waste his time.

The supporters of the plan, on the other hand, have a right to assume that the opposition will consent if they can prove that it is necessary to the security and to the vital interests of the United States. That the proposal is new, that it is disagreeable, inconvenient, expensive, is not a sufficient objection if, without a citizenry trained in arms, we shall be much less able to prevent war, and much less sure of winning it if we do not prevent it.

THERE IS NO DOUBT at all, it seems to me, that—for the postwar period which may last a generation—military training will make it much more likely that we can prevent a third world war. It is, of course, by no means the only thing we need in order to prevent war, but without it all our other means of preventing war will be ever so much less effective.

Every scheme of aggression is based on the idea that it will be successful before the victims realize what is going to happen, and are awake, and can collect the force to resist. For no one in any world war, not Napoleon, not the Kaiser, not Hitler, not the Japanese war lords, ever supposed he could defeat all the nations of the world, or even some of the great ones, in a conflict where all were fully prepared. The essence of any scheme of world conquest is that the aggressor who is fully prepared will be able to overwhelm the other nations quickly, because they are unprepared, and separately, because they are disunited.

NO FUTURE aggressor will be deterred by remembering that eventually the United States can become a mighty military power. He will always expect to win before that miracle takes place, and in both of the world wars of this century the aggressors came very near to doing just that. In this war they would almost certainly have succeeded but for the spiritual fortitude of leaders like Churchill, Roosevelt, Stalin and De Gaulle, who evoked a will to resist that was beyond all normal calculation. The truth of the matter is that our victory was snatched from the jaws of defeat, and we were brought to this terrible peril because the United Nations were not united, and none of them was well prepared for war.

During the dangerous and difficult years which lie ahead of us—the years when the world must be pacified in order that there may eventually be peace—our own influence in the world will be directly related to our actual and immediate—not our potential and eventual power.

IN THESE DANGEROUS years the paramount question will be whether or not a new combination is to be formed for the purpose of making still another attempt to overthrow the civilized order to which we belong, of which we are a principal defender. It is the task of diplomacy, acting through the United Nations organization and through our alliances, to deal with such a new combination at the first sign that it is being formed. If we are well armed, diplomacy can do this without resorting to arms. If we are disarmed, our verbal protests will be disregarded, and in the end we shall have to fight.

This, I believe, is the fundamental and compelling reason why military training is, at this time, a necessary sacrifice in order to achieve peace. In any event, it is on this ground that we must debate the measure. We must invite those who are unconvinced or opposed to examine with us whether these propositions are true or false, namely:

1. That American military power cannot be quickly mobilized unless there is a reserve of young men who have already had basic military training.
2. That our influence in preventing another war will be measured by our actual, not our potential, military power.
3. That if we fail to prevent another war, only the capacity to develop our military power quickly can, with the modern offensive weapons, provide adequate defence against defeat.

IF THESE THREE propositions are true, the case for military training is proved. I believe they are true, and that reasonable men will find that the evidence and logic which support them are conclusive.

I wish it were otherwise, and that we dared to think that we can return to the easy, carefree, happy-go-lucky ways which were the birthright of all Americans in the days before the two world wars of this century. We cannot think that. We dare not be guided by our wishes. Those easy days are over. Destiny has placed upon us the heavy burdens and the awful responsibilities—but also the grandeur and the glory—which are the lot of any nation which rises to the position where it holds the keys to war and to peace.

I know that we are not in the mood just now to live at so high a level. There are few among us who are not weary from the anxieties and the effort of this war; few who do not long to relax in private tranquillity and quiet, and to find surcease from the need to think and care about the stubborn troubles of the great world. This feeling, so easily understandable because all of us share it, and not the arguments against military training, is the real reason why the measure is difficult to enact. But we have to master our own feelings.

A FINE BAND, TOO

On behalf of the members of the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band, I wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the members of the Canadian Scottish Women's Auxiliary; Thunderbird Squadron, I.O.D.E.; Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion; parents and friends of the girls, and the general public for their efforts in making our tag day such a great success.

Thanks are also extended to the City Hall for the use of the A.R.P. headquarters, on Pandora Avenue, and Mrs. R. McVie, convenor.

(Miss) AUDREY B. PATRICK, Secretary, Victoria Girls' Pipe Band and Concert Party, 2682 Topp Avenue.

AN APPRECIATION

Last Wednesday evening at the opening concert of the Victoria Musical Arts Society's winter program, I was one of a very large and enthusiastic audience who appreciated to the full the great pleasure of listening to the delightful and unique recital given by Selma Reyes.

The brilliance of her art and the wizardry of her fingers are so well known that no comment is specially needed on that score. The audience was deeply grateful for her intellectual as well as emotional choice of program, demonstrating, as it did, the finest examples of the accepted recital programs of the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries.

When Beethoven wrote his dainty sonata (included in the program) pianos, as such, had fewer octaves, and it is to this composer we owe the development of the "sostenuto," and the "forte-pianos" as it is to Paganini we owe the lengthened violin fingerboards to permit of his acrobatics. Without these forerunners, Szymanowski would have had an impossible task to develop his amazing atonal writings, three of which, under the title "Les Mythes," were played by Miss Reyes.

Much more could be said, but I trust, that through the medium of your paper, I may be permitted to express the appreciation of a host of genuine music-lovers to Miss Reyes and her brilliant fellow artist and accompanist, Jean Bulinckx, for the fine example they set in sincerity of approach to music, and for giving us an opportunity to hear those gems of violin literature that are rarely heard.

Today a Fun-Full Games Room!

This front Cellar, once cold and unattractive, was used for nothing but storage space—until TEN/TEST turned it into a comfortable, fun-full Games Room.

Standard TEN/TEST Panels, in attractive natural finish, set horizontally, now form dado over rough cement walls. TEN/TEST is bevelled and set diagonally for upper walls. . . and Ashlar Blocks bring beauty to the old unsightly ceiling, Masonite Tempered Flooring forms smart, durable, easily-cleaned floor.

The cost was small, the job quickly done, the enjoyment of this new comfortably-insulated

In building a new home—in renovating an old one—remember TEN/TEST. It's the rigid board that combines lifetime structural strength with maximum insulating efficiency. But No Phone Cables To Serve Them...

The normal process of providing telephone cables to serve newly developed residential sections stopped during the war because of government restrictions. Now we are busy with the big job of catching up. We have received 10 carloads of cable this year and have a lot more on order. But the factories are deluged with orders and so we can't get our supplies as fast as we wish. Another big bottleneck is the shortage of central office equipment. We are making progress but there will be waiting lists for many months yet.

Red Cross Notes

Some Parcels Received—Red Cross parcels were received in some Japanese camps, state prisoners of war who are now returning from four years captivity in the Far East. Several of the men returning on the U.S.S. Rodman told the B.C. Red Cross representative in San Francisco that they had received seven parcels in all and without this help they could not have lived. Cigarettes in the parcels were not smoked because they were worth their weight in gold. A regular business was carried on with the Japs, 18 duck eggs being the price of one package of cigarettes.

Get Results—Thousands of telegrams and cables have been sent by the B.C. Division of the Red Cross Society for Canadian and British prisoners of war reaching west coast ports from four years' captivity in the Far East. Every prisoner of war or civilian internee has use of this free service. At least one prisoner got a wife through this means, for he cabled a proposal to the "girl he left behind" in Edinburgh and the answer was "yes." Now he is speeding towards home and his December wedding.

Oak Bay 'Teens Dance

At the first dance of the Junior Recreation Club, held in the hall on Saturday, under the supervision of A. J. Bewley, a large group of "teen-agers" danced to the music of Bob Young's orchestra.

Margaret Freeman and Barbara Peterson decorated the hall, the two treasurers. Margaret Freeman and Ken Wilson were in charge of the door and can-teen. Audrey Harmer, secretary, and Peter Evans, chairman, arranged and conducted the dance. A number of novelty dances were enjoyed. The next dance will be held on Nov. 24 in the Community Centre Hall.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are two girls who disagree with my mother on the amount of sex information a young girl should have. We believe that the more information a girl has, the safer she will be. My mother believes that the less a girl knows of worldly evils, the safer she will be. Will you settle our argument for us?

PUZZLED.

Answer: You are right. Your mother is wrong. Ignorance is not innocence, and the mother who really wishes to protect her daughter against the dangers she is bound to encounter will teach her just where they lie, and how to recognize wolves at eight, even if they are dressed up in sheep's clothing.

The wise mother makes no mystery of sex. She tells her daughter all there is to know about it and charts all of the pits into which she may fall if she is not wary and doesn't watch her step. In olden times girls were kept safe in ignorance because they were educated in convents and chaperoned at home, but now, when they go to co-educational schools and work side by side in offices with men, their only protection is what their mothers have taught them about sex.

S.P.C.A.—A Christmas sale and dance will be held in the lower ballroom, Crystal Garden, Dec. 6, in aid of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Victoria branch. Donations will be received for the sale at the office, 918 Government Street. Committee members are: Mesdames M. C. Newcomen, W. R. Foster, H. Gann, J. Barr, H. C. Brockhurst, R. A. Wootton, J. A. Peacey, V. L. Arnett, J. G. Hazelwood and W. B. Williams.

Arts and Crafts Exhibition Opens

The 3rd exhibition of the Island Arts and Crafts Society, commenced Saturday afternoon in the Crystal Garden gallery and will continue until Nov. 4.

John Kyle, president of the society, gave a short opening address, explaining that the exhibition was non-jury in form. There was no selection committee and every picture presented for entry had been hung.

A feature of the exhibition was the work of eight charter members of the society, who in their brushwork and use of color were as modern as many of the younger exhibitors. "The Old Arbutus Tree," by Miss Josephine Crease, was an outstanding example. Entries by B. R. Berwick, "The White Ship" and "Uplands in May," were commented on for a clear use of color and cleanness of light and shadow. Two landscapes by Frank W. Faux were also much admired. Here, the natural ruggedness of foreshores was brushed in with a few clean strokes that gave even the smallest rocks a three-dimensional quality.

Isabel Hobbs' flower studies, Patience Birley's dog heads, Lillian S. Young's water color portrait of the late Lt. Cmdr. T. W. Golby, a charcoal study by I. R. S. Langdale, "The Wandering Jew" and a modern presentation, "Farm Barns, Marigold" by Muriel Barnes, were only a few of the outstanding entries.

Victoria Pottery Club, also in its 35th year, had a display in the exhibition. With 27 active members, this club had done a lot of experimenting with Vancouver Island clays and now even makes some of its own glazes.

Another exhibit was from the Kiwanis Rehabilitation Workshop, showing handicrafts made by members of the occupational therapy class.

The performance will be in support of a fund to provide scholarships for Canadian Indians, and to stimulate native Indian industry, in memory of Canadian Indians who lost their lives in service overseas.

The fund is being organized by the British Columbia Society for the Furtherance of Indian Arts and Crafts. Other plans call for the establishment by the society of a memorial collection containing the finest examples of Indian art and handicraft. This will be held in trust by the society, and will be loaned to government and private agencies seeking to better the welfare of Indians of British Columbia.

How did YOUR ROOF

stand the storm?

Such storms as we had last week play havoc with Roofing Reputations—and quickly discover leaks and other weaknesses in roofs that LOOKED quite all right. The proof of a roof is not how it stands up in summer, but how it SHOWS UP in winter. When a flat or built-up roof has been applied by Pacific you can forget about it summer and winter, for the life of the Legal Bond that we hand you on completion of the job. First, we use only materials of nationally famous roofing manufacturers, and then we construct the roofing up to specifications which justify those manufacturers in recognizing us as BONDED ROOFERS.

Enough for All To Eat Planned By F.A.O. Conference

QUEBEC (CP)—Full sessions of the Food and Agriculture Organization conference today began consideration of committee recommendations for a program of co-operative effort toward orderly world production and distribution of the necessities of life.

The permanent operations of this United Nations organization will be launched immediately from temporary headquarters in Washington, under the newly-elected director-general, Sir John Boyd Orr, Scottish pioneer in scientific nutrition.

In a speech Saturday night, Sir John said the objective of F.A.O. was simply to induce nations to so arrange their food and essential production and distribution, that all peoples everywhere may obtain enough to eat and to shelter them.

That condition does not exist now and never has existed, he said, but it is easily attainable if all the nations co-operate and concentrate on such a worthwhile objective.

Without some such concerted effort, he said, "we will return to the crazy days before the war" when food was being burned or dumped because of low prices or no markets, while millions hungered or starved. He recalled incidents in his Scottish homeland where fresh milk was dumped into rivers while children in nearby cities were starved or undernourished.

The task of F.A.O., he said, was to prevent not only such local evils, but to induce adoption of measures throughout the world so that teeming millions in backward areas, where there has never been enough food, may be well nourished and healthy.

The conference now is scheduled to end Thursday, when it is expected the initial program will have been written from committee reports and adopted by the full representation of 39 fully-accredited nations which have assumed initial membership in the organization.

Patient Expected To Die, Now Walking

At the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Queen Alexandra Solarium it was reported that during September 10 patients were admitted to the Solarium for treatment. Seven patients were discharged to their homes during the month.

Further miraculous results were reported from penicillin treatments. One patient went to the Solarium in November, 1940, suffering from chronic osteomyelitis in the clavicle and spine. In August, 1944, it was expected that he could not live much longer and the boy had given up hope of getting better, but with two series of treatment with penicillin he made a rapid recovery and during the past six months has been getting back strength in his legs and is now about with the aid of crutches.

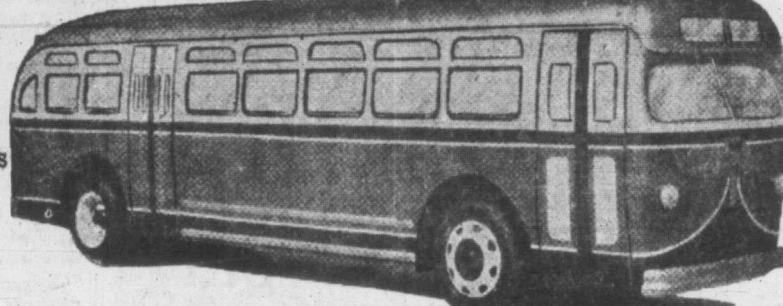

Another went to the Solarium in September, 1939, at the age of two and a half years, to be treated for tuberculosis of the spine, dorsal region. She was in bed on a frame until a week ago, when she was allowed up for a short time. She is now over eight years of age, is of a bright and happy disposition, and able to get about with the support of a celluloid jacket.

Proposed Plans for Greater Victoria Unified Transportation System

FARES—The present fare structure of the company, which is 5c cash fare and an 80c weekly pass to approximately three road miles from the city centre, will be carried over in the proposed Greater Victoria Transportation System. This will entitle all residents living within the boundaries of Victoria City to a 3c fare and an 80c weekly pass, and also give a large proportion of the surrounding municipalities the benefit of this lower fare. Beyond the 3c fare and the 80c weekly pass zone the 6c fare and $1.00 weekly pass will prevail in most instances, with the fare going as high as 7c in some of the far outlying districts in Saanich Municipality feeder system. Children's fares on the entire system will be a 3c cash fare or 10 tickets for 25c.

TRANSFER PRIVILEGES—Transfer privileges will be extended throughout the entire system on the following basis: All transfers issued within the 3c zone will be issued on a 3c fare. All transfers issued from a 3c zone into a 6c zone will require the payment of an additional 1c. Transfers issued from a 6c zone into a 7c zone will require the payment of an additional 2c. Children will be entitled to transfers at no extra cost.

ROUTES - SCHEDULES—There will be nineteen main line routes, paired as follows and operated on the following schedules:

- Route No. 1—Mountain-Mount Toimie and Esquimalt, 5 to 15-minute headway.
- Route No. 2—Oak Bay (North) and Gorge Road, 10 to 20-minute headway.
- Route No. 3—Shoal Bay and Lake Hill-Royal Oak, 10 to 20-minute headway.
- Route No. 4—Fairfield and Beacon Hill, 10-minute headway.
- Route No. 5—Victoria West-Craigflower-Gorge Park and Richardson-Quamichan, 15-minute headway.
- Route No. 6—Gonzales-King George Terrace and Burnside, 10 to 20-minute headway.
- Route No. 7—Hillside and Outer Wharf, 10-minute headway.
- Route No. 8—Maplewood Road and Mount View-Carey-Judah-Saanich-McKenzie, 10 to 20-minute headway.
- Route No. 9—Willows and Colville Road-Drydock, 10 to 20-minute headway.
- Route No. 10—Fernwood-Uplands-Cadboro Bay, 10 to 20-minute headway.

Headway on Oak Bay Avenue will be 5 to 10-minute frequency. On Douglas Street between Port Street and Hillside Avenue headway will be 2 1/2 to 5-minute frequency. In addition to the above-mentioned headway of schedules there will be extra overland buses operated during peak hours. In the case of Esquimalt Municipality, there will be extra non-stop buses operated directly from the Drydock and the Dockyard into the City Centre. The feeder system in Saanich and Esquimalt Municipality will be operated on a frequency of from 20 to 60 minutes.

The map showing our proposed routes gives details of all streets covered. Fernwood-Uplands-Cadboro Bay route will be the only route that will operate from a loop in the centre of the city. All other routes are planned to proceed through the city from one district to another. A careful study has been made as regards to the routing of the buses through the city, taking into consideration business establishments and traffic conditions. There will be no left-hand turns in congested areas throughout our system. A study of our map showing our proposed routes will show that every consideration has been given to the linking up of one district with another. The outlying districts in the municipality of Saanich will be cared for by a very efficient and well-planned feeder system. A feeder bus will connect between the Gorge Road and Admirals Road terminus and Burnside and Wilkinson Road terminus. It will serve Island Highway to Hinchey Road, Hinchey Road to Holland Avenue, Holland Avenue to Hastings Street, Hastings Street to Wilkinson Road, Wilkinson Road to Burnside Road and Wilkinson Road terminus. Another feeder will connect at Burnside Road and Marigold, covering Marigold Road, Interurban Road, Wilkinson Road, to Miller Avenue, and on Carey Road between Wilkinson Road and Judah Street. A feeder will connect with Cadboro Bay route at Cadboro Bay Post Office and will serve Sinclair Road, Hobbs Street, Arbutus Road, Finnieston Road, Cedar Hill Crossroad, Cedar Hill Road up Rosworth Road, and will connect with the Hillside Avenue main line route. A feeder bus will connect with the Cadboro Bay Post Office line serving Ten Mile Point area and Queenswood Drive. Another feeder will connect with the Hillside-Mount Toimie line, serving Shesbourne, Ruby Road, Gordon Head, Fernside, Tyndall and Peilham. A feeder will connect with Hillside and Maplewood lines, serving Braefoot Avenue, covering the following route: Hillside to Gowerth, Gowerth to Cedar Hill Road, Cedar Hill Road to Cedar Hill

Crossroad, Cedar Hill Crossroad to Braefoot, Braefoot to Simon, Simon to Wenzinsop. The only other feeder that will be operated in the company's proposals will be in the Esquimalt Municipality, connecting the Esquimalt Road via Head Street, Trail, Langson, Munro, Fraser, Admirals to Colville Road. By having the feeder buses proceed where possible on one route from one end of the main line to another, it will give double advantage in headway, in comparison to having the feeder bus connect with one main route only. By handling the outlying districts of Saanich Municipality by a feeder system, we feel that advantages gained by operating in this manner, by being able to give a more frequent service and lower fare in these outlying districts is more than offset by persons having to transfer to a main line bus to get to the city. A study of our map will show that only a very small portion of Saanich will be taken care of by a feeder system in comparison to the area that will be cared for by a main line route.

It has been our intention to plan these routes so as no one residing within the approximate three-mile circle will have to walk more than three blocks to board a bus, and in the case of approximately 90% of the people living within the three-mile area none will have to walk more than 2-10 of a mile to get transportation on our proposed system.

EQUIPMENT—After giving consideration to all forms of vehicles which would be most suitable to the operation of this system in Greater Victoria we have come to the conclusion that the gasoline motor bus has many advantages over other makes of vehicles, streetcars or trolley buses. A motor bus requires no overhead wires and unsightly poles to be erected. It has been found that trolley buses break up the city pavements. When a trolley bus breaks down it ties up an entire line, or if there is a fire or a large parade in the city, blocking street traffic, trolley buses cannot be rerouted, thereby disrupting the service and depriving the people on the entire route of service. Gasoline buses could be rerouted.

We would use 100 new gasoline motor buses of the very latest and up-to-date type obtainable on the market for the carrying out of our services. These buses would range from 25 to 41 passengers.

INSURANCE—Our prevailing limits of insurance would be carried out on the Greater Victoria Transportation System, which limits are carried on each bus, $15,000 to $50,000 for Public Liability and standard limits for Property Damage.

DRIVERS—We plan to employ some 200 operators; preference being given to returned veterans, where possible, who will have to pass physical examinations and eye tests, and will be required to take drivers' tests as set down by the Provincial Police and be holders of Class A Licenses; and in addition to this it will be compulsory to attend a Company School of instruction where they will be taught to handle the public in a safe, courteous and respectable manner; to operate the motor buses efficiently and safely, respecting traffic signals and other motorists.

DEPOTS—A depot, garage or an empty lot is impractical in an urban operation of this kind for loading and unloading its patrons. There will be times where there would be as many as 20 buses in the city at one time and it would be practically impossible to find a site close enough to the business section of the city to erect a depot to take care of the loading and unloading of passengers from the number of buses required in this Greater Victoria operation. We do not know of any city in the United States or Canada where any company engaged exclusively in urban transportation load and unload their passengers on private property. We calculate there will be some 40,000 to 50,000 passengers per day using this proposed service, which passengers will be picked up and dropped off at respective bus stops over the entire route. Our company does, however, propose to have a central information office, baggage check-room, lost and found department and ticket selling depot in the downtown area for the convenience of its patrons. The company has planned for the erection of a large garage depot for the facilitating of servicing and storing of its fleet of motor buses. The General Office will be centrally located in the business section of the city, where persons wishing to discuss matters pertaining to its operation can conveniently do so.

COMMENCEMENT OF SERVICE—Our plans can be put into operation six months after the acceptance by the Municipality concerned and the approval of the Public Utilities Commission is obtained. The above proposals outline The Veterans' Sightseeing and Transportation Company Limited, operators of the Blue Line Transit offer of service which will in due course be submitted separately to each Municipality, cities comprising the Greater Victoria area, or to any body legally constituted to accept tenders for a Unified Transportation System.

38, Oil Employees Get Service Pins

One hundred and seventy-five employees of the Standard Oil Company of British Columbia Ltd. recently observed its 10th anniversary.

Highlight of the banquet was the presentation of service pins to 38 employees having completed

10 years' service. Presentation of the pins was made by T. S. Petersen, chairman of the board of Standard of B.C., who came from San Francisco for the occasion.

The meeting was presided over by R. D. Baker, Standard's president and managing director, who traced the progress made by the company since its formation 10 years ago. He attributed the company's success to the employees themselves.

"The progress our company has achieved during 10 years of operation," he said, "is due in no small part to the loyalty, energy and enthusiasm of its employees. So, too will our growth during the next 10 years depend on the personal growth and development of each of our employees."

During his remarks, Mr. Baker pointed out that of all crude oil brought into British Columbia, Standard processes approximately 25 per cent at its Stanovan Refinery.

A troupe from Hilker attractions furnished the entertainment program.

Nature Talks

By ROBERT CONNELL
WALKING across the old Songhees Reserve in Victoria West I was struck with more than one change in that historic site. Forty years ago it was still a centre of aboriginal life. The old Indian houses were clustered along the waterfront below the brick Marine Hospital. Canoes were drawn up on the beach or moved on the waters of the harbor. Around fires in the open air were gathered parties from distant villages and traces still existed of the ancient garb. The tribal burying-place lay a little to the west near Lime Bay.

Today little is left to recall the past except the name of Songhees Point on the north side of the narrow entrance to the Inner Harbor. Railways, streets and roads first came, and in later years the Johnson Street extension, the Dominion Marine and Fisheries Department, the Sidney Roofing Company and other concerns have taken up the waterfront and eaten into the rocky peninsula.

To a botanist the changes in plant life thus brought about are very interesting, for roads and railways—and even industrial plants bring with them a host of camp-followers, many of whom make permanent settlers. These are chiefly of the class called weeds and are mostly small herbaceous plants, troublesome chiefly by their rapid and luxuriant growth which chokes out the native wild plants as well as those of cultivation. However, there are exceptions in size, and one of these I came across the other day forming literally a small hemlock forest.

Of course it was not a forest of our coniferous hemlock, but a dense growth of Conium maculatum, the spotted conium of poison hemlock, a plant of the parsley and carrot family, but with what has been well described as a sinister reputation. Actually the hemlock of our timber forests derives its popular fame from the poison hemlock commonly called in the British Isles simply "hemlock." Tsuga canadensis and our own Tsuga heterophylla were first called "hemlock spruce," because the fine, soft, sprayed leaves recalled the fine foliage of the herb.

In Europe and eastern North

America the poison hemlock rarely attains a height of more than four or five feet, but here in keeping with our reputation for tall things it may grow to eight feet or more. Where I saw it on the old reserve it formed a miniature forest by the roadside, its leaves and flowers gone, only the bare pale brown stems and branches remaining.

These hollow stems were and probably still are called in England "kecks" or "kex," a name that seems to suggest the whistling response they make when dry to the wind as it plays upon them. I wonder how they stood up under the late Sunday gale. Kex is an old Welsh and Cornish word that like other ancient Celtic names has persisted to the present day, though its original meaning is lost.

SPRING TOKENS IN OCTOBER

In the woods I see that our beautiful October weather has had at least one extraordinary result, one might correctly say unsensational. Actually the Hooker willow is already showing catkins in their silvery velvet, bursting out of their brown or reddish yellow bud scales. Some bushes in Pemberton Woods show this phenomenon well.

On the osoberry the small pointed green buds are already conspicuous at the tips of dark-barked branchlets. But despite these hints of spring the woodland and thicket landscape is dominated by the snowberries which are, it seems to me, more lovely than I have ever seen them, large, thickly-clustered and snowy white, and in a less degree by the vivid scarlet of the Nootka rose hips. Nature seems to be making up for the caterpillar blemishes of last summer.

Epstein's Statue, 'Greatest Shocker,' Exhibited in London

LONDON (AP) — A four-ton statue of a nude, Biblical Jacob wrestling with an angel went on exhibition Saturday in a side-show hall on Oxford Street, but sculptor, New York-born Jacob Epstein, refused to attend.

Visitors pay a shilling (12 cents) to the cashier, pass through gaudy portals emblazoned with a neon sign reading "World's Greatest Shocker," and listen to the recorded come-on of a promoter who says he has made more than $300,000 exhibiting Epstein's gargantuan carvings.

"Jacob and the Angel," has been highly praised by some art critics and denounced as a monstrosity by others. The promoter white-haired Charles Stafford, has capitalized on the nudity of the figures, exaggeration of physical characteristics—and the frankness of the pose to describe it as a "shocker."

As a long line of women shoppers and golders paid their money to gaze at his work, Epstein stormed in his London studio.

"Of course I will not go to Oxford Street," said the 65-year-old sculptor. "It is a vulgar pornographic presentation for a sordid motive. Some of my friends—a well-known critic among them—are writing to The Times about it." Stafford insists he is introducing great art to the masses. "Shocking as this work may be to many spectators," Stafford said, "it is a masterpiece depicting the eternal struggle between good and evil."

Seattle, Portland Register Ice Wins

Three week-end skirmishes rounded out one week of play in the Coast Hockey League and the defending champion Seattle Ironmen established themselves as the "team to beat."

Vancouver Canucks downed an improved New Westminster Royal squad 4 to 3 on Royals ice Saturday night to invade Seattle Sunday with a two-point edge on the initial spot.

The lead was short-lived, however, as Ironmen worked over the Canucks to the tune of 8 to 3, and once again the teams share first place honors.

Riding along on a three-game win streak, Canucks squared off with Seattle for the first time this season and ran into plenty of opposition.

DOTTEN HOT

Seattle exploded into action at the starting whistle and Shorty Coombs opened the scoring at the two-minute mark, but Vancouver's Mel Neilson evened the score a minute later.

Manager Frank Dotten then stepped into the spotlight and hammered home three counters which, added to one by Ken Stanton, gave Seattle a 5 to 1 lead. Canucks never recovered from that flurry of goals.

In a third game, Portland Eagles turned back the invading New Westminster squad—8 to 4, registering Royals' fourth straight loss.

Portland jockeyed into the driver's seat at the drop of the first puck and after opening the scoring in the first session, piled up a 4 to 1 lead by the end of the second period, taking advantage of penalties.

Rowe's Field Goal Gives Calgary Win

REGINA (CP)—Calgary Stampers defeated Regina Roughriders 3 to 1 here Saturday in the bitterly-contested opening game of the western Canada rugby football semifinal series.

The Calgary griders showed to advantage in the rushing department despite Canadian Rugby Union rules which slowed down their free-wheeling back-field blockers, but failed to establish a clear margin in any other direction, and carried off the game only by pouncing on a Rider fumble midway through the second quarter and turning it into a field goal.

Paw or Nose May Decide Dog Races

LONDON (CP)—Stewards of the National Greyhound Racing Club are worried over the problem of whether a paw or a nose shall decide the winner of a race.

The problem has been raised by installation of a photo camera to record close finishes at the White City greyhound track.

One steward gave his opinion that the greyhound whose nose is first to reach the winning line should be awarded the race. He added that such a ruling would conform with that used by jockey club judges in deciding results of horse races.

Curling Experiences Boom in America

QUEBEC (CP)—Applications from curling clubs in nearly 40 Canadian and six United States cities already have overloaded the fixed entry list of 96 rinks for Quebec's 33rd International Bonspiel next Jan. 21-27, it was disclosed Friday. Surplus applicants, officials said, have been placed on a waiting list and will be afforded competing privileges in the event of withdrawals.

The annual spiel, one of the top events in eastern Canada's winter sports, accommodated 80 rinks last winter and the 1946 edition has been extended to the full capacity of local ice facilities. Matches are run off, day and night, at four local clubs. The seven-day program begins with play for the British Consols trophy by Quebec province rinks, and for the Good Will trophy.

Bays Defeat College

Manager Bob McInnes' J.B.A.A. fifteen composed of seasoned warriors of the English rugby battlefield opened their bid for the coveted Barnard-Cup, city championship silverpiece, with a hard-won 5 to 3 decision over coach Campbell Forbes' Victoria College aggregation Saturday.

It was the first appearance of the Bays and veteran fans, after watching their performance, predicted that McInnes' lads "will make things plenty hot for other contenders for the silverware after they get in better condition." Majority of the J.B.A.A. line-up includes boys who have just come back from the services and it was impossible to get them together for regular conditioning workouts.

The collegians were a younger and speedier team but in the face of stiff resistance by the "old-timers" were unable to get over the line for a touchdown. The trio of points chalked up by the city college team were garnered from a penalty kick in the closing half. Bays marked up their points in the first half.

Opening half saw the Bays the aggressors. In the final half of the game Victoria College pressed heavily but every effort to cross the line was frustrated by the opposition, this in spite of the fact the Bays showed signs of fatigue.

OPENING SCORE

First score of the game came halfway through the first half when Ralph Sheppard started the three-quarters going on the 50-yard line. Husky Tom Carney was the receiver from Sheppard. He took the ball forward for a substantial gain before passing it on to Bill McCagey who scouted over to score the game's initial try.

It was Tom McKeachie's successful conversion with a neat bit of bootwork that gave the Bays their two-point margin in the game. Bays made many attempts to capitalize on their gains before and after the try in the first half, but never succeeded.

Forbes' fifteen went into the second half with plenty of gusto and had it not been for the determined manner in which the J.B.A.A. fought off all drives to crash their goal line the score would have been reversed. It was during this heavy pressure in the second half that the Bays were penalized for "off side" and, being within booting distance of the upright, the College tried for a field goal, Buddy Lott doing the kicking. He was successful and provided the collegians with their only points.

The game ended with the collegians still trying their utmost to breach the Bays' defence line. Lovely kicking by Harry Barber aided a lot in driving the Victoria College fifteen back. The Bays lost Sheppard and Bridge in the second half, owing to injuries and Speller and Riceby replaced them.

This was the first game where the three new rules adopted by the Victoria Rugby Union were used, including substitution.

OAK BAY WINS

Intermediate League swung into action on the lower pitch. This saw Oak Bay High School team score an 8 to 0 victory over Victoria College. Blair Beaton, forward, dashed over for two tries and Doug Brown converted one to make up the Oak Bay points. A stiff defence in the final stanza kept the college intermediates from preventing a shutout.

An exhibition game played at Windsor Park at Oak Bay saw Oak Bay Wanderers take an 8 to 0 beating from Navy team. It was the first time in action for both. Cavanagh and Blake went over for tries for the Navy and the conversion of one of them by Reed made up the score.

West's Hand Nanaimo First Soccer Defeat

WEEK-END RESULTS

Victoria West 4, Nanaimo 2.
V.M.D. 2, Toppers 1.
Canadian Legion 4, Navy 4.

Driving through for three goals in a torrid second half Victoria West defeated Nanaimo 4 to 2 before the largest crowd of the season in Sunday's first division soccer match at Athletic Park. Victory moved the greenshirts, last year's champions, into a three-point lead at the head of the circuit. It was Nanaimo's first defeat in three matches.

West's boast a record of three wins and a draw in four starts.

After matching Nanaimo check for check in a rugged first half, the greenshirts, who have proven before they are a great second-half aggregation, piled up a 4 to 1 edge before the up-land eleven was able to break through for its second goal. In the last 15 minutes the Nanaimo squad put on a great drive to try and get back into the game but were held by a stiff West's back division with goalie Vince Clarkson distinguishing himself. On four occasions the lanky red-head turned aside shots that looked like sure goals. Bobby Bell turned in a stout show at left back while the half back line of Robbins, McMillan and Oakman's shirts forward wall, after appearing disorganized in the first half hit its stride in the final 45 minutes and the three goals scored were well earned.

Nanaimo, after getting away from a tendency to rough it up, showed a lot of clever football. The visiting forwards made matters interesting for the Wests in the closing stages. The Nanaimo defence was none too sound, especially under pressure.

SCORE EARLY

Wests went into the lead after 10 minutes play, Musgrave taking a perfect pass off centre-forward Bell's head to drive the ball into the net. Fullback Watson blocked the drive only to have the ball rebound off goalie Williams into the net. At the other end Horne missed the corner with a first timer following a corner kick. Nanaimo continued to press and were awarded a penalty when Travis handled. Clarkson saved Sinclair's shot only to have the Nanaimo centre half rush in to boot the rebound past him.

Early in the second half Clarkson made a great save from English while Bell tested Williams with a first timer. Hayward put the Wests in front when he picked the bottom corner after Williams had fallen to the ground in punching out Oakman's shot from a free kick. Denton headed over the bar on a cross from Todd. Shortly after Reside made it 3 to 1 when he intercepted an attempted pass by fullback Thompson and cut in fast to blast the ball past Williams from the left side. Continuing to keep Nanaimo on the defence Reside passed to Musgrave directly in front of the net and the inside left just tapped it into the corner for the Wests' fourth counter.

Climaxing a neat passing attack Denton scored Nanaimo's second goal with a shot from the left wing that caught the far corner. Minutes later Eastbrook missed an open goal after English's shot had rebounded off the crossbar. Final whistle found Nanaimo still in Wests' territory.

V.M.D. WIN

Stan Wiseman's goal from a corner kick gave the V.M.D. their win over the Toppers. Forced to take the field without the services of Alan Parks and Alec Dallimore, two of their crack inside forwards, the shipbuilders were hard pressed to register their second win of the season.

Toppers had every bit as much of the play as the V.M.D., but their forward line showed a definite weakness when it got within scoring range. Both clubs displayed a lot of aimless kicking and matters were not made any better by the greasy ball and slippery condition of the field as the result of a heavy rain.

V.M.D. were fortunate in the first half when Norm Baker, their goalie, allowed two shots to roll through him, but both times the ball slipped past the post.

First five minutes of play saw the shipbuilders move into a 1 to 0 lead when George Payne headed the ball into the net after right-winger Wiseman had got his noggin to Harry Holness's cross and lifted the ball into the goalmouth. In the late stages of the half, Toppers put on a determined offensive, but halftime found them still one goal down.

Second half had just opened when Toppers deadlocked the score, right-winger Shubrook tipping in to slam the ball past Baker after Baldwin's attempt on goal had struck the upright and rebounded. Toppers continued to hold the upper hand but were unable to find the net again. V.M.D. settled down to sweep the attack and finally forced a corner. Wiseman centred beautifully and goalie Foreman, in attempting to fist clear, pulled the ball into his own net off one of the uprights.

LEGION SURPRISES

Those fans who elected to take in the Navy-Canadian Legion game received a rude jolt when the latter came up with their best exhibition of the season to hold the powerful bluejackets to a deadlock. The four goals registered by the Legion were their first of the season in four starts.

Making his first appearance at centre-forward for the Legion, Alan Wright distinguished himself by firing a pair of goals. The Legion also had Moon Evans back in goal and he certainly bolstered their defence.

Legion opened the scoring at the 15-minute mark, Costain beating goalie Macham from a penalty shot. Navy moved back on even terms as Smith rushed in to find the net when Evans stumbled in attempting to gather in a long shot. Legion moved back into the lead on Pop Sage's counter on a pass from Wright.

The second half was 12 minutes old when Wright went through himself to register, placing the Legion two goals up. Navy got back into the picture as Miles scored and soon after, Smith accepted a pass from Martin to rattle the ball past Evans to tie the score.

Wright followed soon after with his second counter to put the Legion ahead once more, but the Navy managed to finish with a tie when Eddie DeCosta converted a penalty.

Black and Whites Defeat Brentwood In Hoop Feature

Moving on a real scoring rampage with the opening of the final quarter, Black and Whites turned back Brentwood Aces 49 to 44 in their senior B men's basketball clash Saturday night. In other games J.B.A.A. won from the Victoria College 33 to 24 in the intermediate A boys' division and Comets beat Rookies 33 to 17 in the women's league.

Making their second start of the season, the Brentwood club came up with a surprising performance against the favored Black and Whites. The Aces showed in front once during the engagement and never allowed their opponents to take a commanding lead.

With their line-up strengthened by the appearance of Clarence Uttke, Billy Duncan and Joe Stewart, Black and Whites had a little too much experience for their young opponents. Uttke led Black and Whites with 11 points, followed by Bryant with eight.

After moving into an 11 to 5 lead in the first quarter the Bays were never headed in their battle with the collegians. Mitchell and Slang were high point getters for the Bays, each with 10 points while Woodhouse sank eight points for the college.

After finding the basket for 17 points in the first quarter Comets won in a walk from the Rookies.

Painter-Basanta Hold Golf Button

Freddy Painter and Freddy Basanta retained possession of the city golf button Sunday at the Gorge Vale Club defeating Harold Lineham and D. Thornton 3 and 2 over 18 holes.

Basanta was particularly hot on the first nine holes, posting a three-under par 33. He finished with a two under par 72. Painter had an 81. Lineham a 76 and Thornton an 80.

WEEK-END SCORES

Toronto 1, Boston 1.
Canadiens 8, Chicago 4.
Detroit 7, Boston 0.

If season-starters mean anything in the National Hockey League, look for Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings when it comes time to "reckon up" for the Stanley Cup.

After an early mid-week start, which saw Chicago Black Hawks take Boston Bruins, the N.H.L. settled down to three games during the week-end. Net results: Canadiens and Red Wings put on powerhouse performances; the rest did their best.

With their line-up strengthened by the appearance of Clarence Uttke, Billy Duncan and Joe Stewart, Black and Whites had a little too much experience for their young opponents. Uttke led Black and Whites with 11 points, followed by Bryant with eight.

TWO-GOAL SCORERS

Toe Blake and Reay, the former Winnipeg sailor, bagged a pair of markers each against goalie Doug Stevenson, while Lach, Richard, Buddy O'Connor and Joe Benoit were the other scorers. Wingy Johnson pushed two pucks into Bill Durnan's nets, the other Hawk tallies coming from Don Grosso and Max Bentley.

Toronto Leafs—Stanley Cup holders and picked by Ranger boss Frank Boucher as the "team to beat"—came from behind in their hard-hitting contest with Boston to tie the things up at a third frame goal by Bob Davidson. Bill Shill notched the Bruin goal in the second period.

There was a lot of prewar talent showing, including the famed Boston krauters, and N.H.L. customers seemed well satisfied with the preview of the coming season.

Adam Brown went after tall Paul Bibeault in the Boston nets last night with vengeance and nicked him once in each stanza. The Bruneteaus—Modere and Eddie—each scored once as did Syd Howe and Joe Carveth.

And to Harry Lumley went the honor of the season's first shutout.

Labor, Veteran Organization Asks True Job Picture

A hint that delegates were of the opinion that the employment situation in Victoria was being purposely clouded was given Sunday at a meeting at the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, of the Veteran-Labor Consultative Council, which unanimously endorsed a resolution calling for publication of data giving the true employment picture for this area.

The action followed considerable discussion on the job situation in Victoria during which the council was told that reports were becoming more numerous that returning veterans were experiencing considerable difficulty in finding employment at living wages.

The council felt no good purpose was being served by keeping employment statistics from the public.

A donation to further the work of the council was received with thanks from the Victoria Labor Council (C.C.L.) and John Wainwright was seated as a delegate from that group.

A request from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council calling for immediate improvement of port and harbor facilities for Victoria as well as creation of a free port area here, was unanimously endorsed. A resolution urging the development of the district zone council of the Canadian Legion asking that all federal establishments close Nov. 12.

The Legion zone council also won unanimous support for its request that all army huts and buildings instead of being torn down be used as temporary housing accommodation. Even if these buildings did not offer ideal living conditions they would be better than some of the buildings in which veterans were now living, the council was told, the Dallas Road army buildings being suggested as suitable for conversion.

Public Works Deputy On Way to Victoria To Study Port Plan

E. P. Murphy, recently appointed deputy minister of public works for the Dominion government, is on his way from Ottawa to Victoria to discuss development of harbor facilities here.

Mr. Murphy is expected to meet the Victoria City Council, members of the Chamber of Commerce and representatives of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, chief sponsors of the city's harbor improvement plans. Accompanying Mr. Murphy is K. M. Cameron, chief engineer of the public works department.

Assurance that preliminary steps for the improvement of Victoria's harbor are proceeding "although no definite promise of what they will do have been made thus far," was given by R. W. Mayhew, Victoria M.P., to Mayor Percy George today.

Mr. Mayhew said Mr. Murphy would be in Victoria Thursday. Meanwhile Alderman T. W. Hawkins, chairman of the city council's harbor committee, said his group would meet Wednesday morning to discuss representations to be made to Mr. Murphy. Invitations to attend the meeting have been extended to representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and Trades and Labor Council.

Mr. Mayhew's letters were in answer to a telegram sent last Monday by the city council asking that immediate steps be taken to get the harbor improvements under way.

This was followed Sunday night by unanimous endorsement of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council resolution by the Victoria Veteran-Labor consultative committee calling for immediate development of port facilities here.

Fighting Qualities Of Scottish Stressed

"From the moment the Canadian Scots poured onto the beaches of Normandy right through to VE-Day the unit never once suffered a reverse and took every objective assigned them," declared Brig. F. N. Cabellu, D.S.O. and Bar, E.D., paying tribute to the splendid fighting qualities of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, Saturday night.

Brig. Cabellu was speaking at a smoker given in his honor by the Canadian Scottish Regiment Association in the sergeants' mess, Bay Street Armories. More than 200 veterans of two wars attended, coming from all points on the island.

Brig. Cabellu, who was in command of the unit when the Scots invaded northwest Europe on D-Day, spoke in glowing terms of the fighting battalion he led. He said the success of his command was not so much due to himself, but rather to the officers and men. "It was proven over and over that the men had as much confidence in the command as I had in them," Brig. Cabellu said.

He said the rivalry that springs up between companies and platoons "was all cast aside when the day of the invasion came and all settled down to put their best team-spirit into the job of defeating the enemy."

BRIG. ROCKINGHAM

Brig. J. M. Rockingham, D.S.O. and Bar, proposed the toast to the guest of honor. "It was due to Brig. Cabellu's training of the battalion that it did so well on the field of battle, not only on

D-Day but continuously until the end of hostilities," he said. As an illustration of the battle value of the Canadian Scots, Brig. Rockingham referred to Field Marshal Montgomery's statement on D-Day about "a Canadian unit was first to the objective."

"That unit was the Canadian Scots," the brigadier stated. Col. H. M. Urquhart, D.S.O., M.C., A.D.C., regimental commander, said that pipers of all battalions of the regiment would go to Vancouver to meet the home-coming battalion, pipe for fighters to Victoria. He reported that plans were progressing for a top-flight welcoming program for the fighting Canadian Scots. He spoke of a color reception party being formed of men who fought in the latest war and who have since returned.

"We will be doing honor not only to them and others of the regiment who have returned," he said, "but we will be giving Vancouver Island the opportunity to honor our naval and air force men who have not previously had the chance to parade."

CREDIT TO COL. KINGHAM

Col. Urquhart gave Col. J. R. Kingham, first lieutenant-colonel to go overseas with the 1st Battalion, credit for his efforts to bring about the development of the Scots.

An appeal that all members and former members of the regiment leave their names and addresses at regimental H.Q., Post Office Building, was issued. J. R. Cleator, president of the association, presided.

coho salmon at Cowichan Bay. The first weighed about five pounds, while the second tipped the scales at seven.

On Sunday the Premier again fished for Cowichan Bay cohos, but in the bright October sunshine the fish failed to take his lures. He returned to Victoria without a strike.

Two Days to Get On Civic Voters' List

With only two more days to go 526 have registered on the city municipal voters' list, M. F. Hunter, city clerk, said today.

Voters have an opportunity until Wednesday at 5 p.m. to get their names on the municipal voters' list, Mr. Hunter said. All property owners automatically have their names on, as well as licensees who were on last year's list and are still in good standing. All new licensees must register at the City Clerk's office in the City Hall.

Householders who were on the list last year and who have paid road and poll tax also have their names placed on the list, but all others must register.

Repat Sends Mayor Souvenir of Japs

As a souvenir to remind the city of the repatriated prisoners of war who passed through here, one of them, Capt. F. W. Rork of the Indian Army, has sent Mayor Percy George a 100 Yuan note, Japanese occupation money, across which he wrote "Thumbs up and well done, Victoria, Oct. 18, 1945."

The letter was mailed from Debert, N.S., just before the men sailed on the "last lap of their journey home, and Capt. Rork says he is writing on behalf of all the men to express "our heartfelt appreciation and sincerest thanks for all your many kindnesses during our short stay in your lovely city and beautiful country."

The letter continues, "We had the greatest thrill of all home, and we felt we were at home as indeed we were." He speaks of how the men, after the starvation and brutality of Jap prison camps, were greeted with happy smiling faces and helped with words of sympathy and kindness.

He says that the Jap money he sent is "my last link with Jap culture."

Air Line Officials

On Week-end Visit

A group of executives of United Air Lines arrived in Victoria Friday evening by plane from Chicago headquarters to spend the week-end before resuming a western inspection tour which calls for visits to 30 cities. Included in the party were J. A. Harlily, vice-president of operations; Harold Cray, vice-president of traffic, a former resident of Seattle, and John W. Newsay, vice-president of finance. The party traveled in a 21-passenger Mainlander.

United which serves both Vancouver and Seattle expects Victoria travelers to benefit by its expansion program and expedited schedules in the immediate future. The company officials left by boat Sunday evening.

Mrs. Jane E. Lancaster, 1120 McKenzie Street, has written Mayor Percy George asking that the trees on McKenzie Street be cut back or removed as they interfere with her radio reception and spoil her garden.

Dorothy Harrison, 17, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital suffering from slight back and hip injuries Sunday night, police reported, after being knocked down at Moss and Minto Streets by a car which police said was driven by Paul G. The Public Utilities Commission has sent the City Council a copy of the order-in-council providing a free billing period for electricity for one month in Victoria. Dr. W. A. Extracts from a broadcast by Lt. Col. J. R. Williamson, Indian Artillery, indicating the contempt of Indian soldiers for their Japanese captors, have been received by the officer's brother, W. C. Williamson, 11 Cook Street. Lt. Col. Sister Mary Kathleen, Superior at St. Joseph's Hospital, has written the City Council, to inquire if the boulevard trees on Richardson and Cook Streets are the cause of lights being cut off at the hospital, during Sunday's severe storm, and asking the council to take steps to remedy the situation. She stated in her letter that every time there is a severe storm a similar disruption of electric light service occurs, causing the hospital great inconvenience.

Blue Line Appeal On Gonzales Bus Route Opens Here

Appeal of the Veterans' Sightseeing and Transportation Company (Blue Line) from the decision of the Public Utilities Commission granting the B.C. Electric Railway Company the right to operate buses in the Fairfield-Gonzales area opened before the Court of Appeal here today. The court was fully constituted with Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan presiding.

R. D. Harvey, Blue Line counsel, submitted that the Public Utilities Commission in making its decision in favor of the B.C. Electric acted on a wrong principle and not in the public interest. He contended that a wrong principle was contained in the commission's finding that as the B.C. Electric was operating a streetcar line which traverses a part of the area it would be unwise and unfair to allow another transportation company to operate there.

Mr. Harvey told the court that the Public Utilities Commission had based its decision on consumption of a private interest rather than a public interest. He maintained the commission had followed a wrong principle in basing its decision on the consent of the city council and a supposed obligation of the city council to allow the B.C. Electric to operate in the Fairfield-Gonzales district.

With reference to the Blue Line appeal on fact, Mr. Harvey submitted that on the evidence given by the two companies the commission should have refused the B.C. Electric application and granted that of the Blue Line.

He pointed out that the area in question contains 17 1/2 per cent of the dwellings in Greater Victoria and approximately 15 per cent of the population.

H. W. Davey, K.C., counsel for the B.C. Electric, objected to Mr. Harvey's submission that the Fairfield-Gonzales streetcar route was inaugurated in 1909, since when the district has had a 700 per cent increase in population. Mr. Davey said too much stress was being placed on this fact.

Roy Manzer appeared with Mr. Davey for the B.C. Electric.

Mayor Percy George attended the opening hearing.

Employees Against Public Ownership

The B.C. Electric Office Employees Association have informed the city council that they intend to vigorously oppose any move to place the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. under public ownership.

The association stated in its letter that they were unanimously opposed to the government taking over the utility, "feeling that such action would be both detrimental to the best interests of the community as a whole and of office employees in particular."

They say they intend to carry on a public campaign against the municipalities owning public utilities and form a committee "to devise ways and means of defeating any move to place the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. under any form of public ownership at the forthcoming municipal elections."

Members of Division 109 of the Street Railwaymen's Union have also written to "vigorously oppose any plan of public ownership of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd., until such time as the status, rights and privileges now enjoyed by all employees of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. by existing agreements be guaranteed by the enactment of legislation which would be binding upon all present and future governmental bodies affected."

VANCOUVER (CP)—Five thousand Vancouver employees of the B.C. Electric Railway Company submitted to the city council today a resolution opposing public ownership of the utility. The motion was signed by 5,000 employees.

The resolution was given to a special council meeting to consider an engineer's report on acquisition of B.C.R. assets as a public utility.

Traffic Inspector Of B.C.E.R. Retires

Albert E. Collis, a veteran of 50 years' service with the B.C. Electric, will be retired from the post of traffic inspector on Nov. 1.

Mr. Collis will be succeeded by H. Rowland Halls, who, in recent years has been his assistant. Mr. Collis joined the company as a conductor with the then Victoria Electric Railway and Lighting Company in June, 1895.

Mr. Halls has been with the company for 15 years, and was associated with the light and power and merchandising depart-

Mixed Reception For Truman Address In London Papers

LONDON (Reuter) — Newspapers today were divided in their views on President Truman's navy day speech on United States foreign policy, with some approving and others finding it disappointing.
The Daily Telegraph commented that Mr. Truman had not clarified how he proposed to realize the "unexceptionable principles" of the speech.
"There is a sharp contrast between these principles and the distressing actualities described by Mr. Bevin last Friday," the Daily Telegraph added. (Foreign Secretary Bevin said in the House of Commons last Friday that Europe faced privations which might prove worse than the atom bomb.)
"Apart from Mr. Truman's announcement of early discussions on the atomic bomb — discussions which will concern only its control, not its secret — there is no mention of concrete plans and intentions."

The Daily Express said the speech was the best possible news for the world as it showed the United States was not going to relinquish any of her responsibilities for maintenance of peace.

SUPPORTED BY BRITAIN

Appraising the 12 principles which Mr. Truman declared to be fundamental to his system of foreign policy, the Times of London said there was nothing in this creed to which British policy could not subscribe with a whole heart.

"But, as commentators in the United States have already pointed out, the difficulties in international affairs are all concerned with the application rather than the enunciation of principles," the paper added.

A Russian critic, while accepting Mr. Truman's general statement of policy, might maintain that some of the 12 points must in their application conflict with others — the preservation of collective security, for instance, with the right of self-determination as it is understood in the west.

"It is of the first importance that the Russian case should be understood and soberly appraised," the Times said. "The continuance of mutual suspicion between the major allies is the deadliest danger of all."

The Manchester Guardian termed the speech "disappointing" and not "an auspicious opening to what he calls the atomic age."

No. 418 Squadron Tops in R.C.A.F.

LONDON (CP) — In an unofficial compilation, the Canadian army newspaper, Maple Leaf at week-end listed as top-scoring R.C.A.F. squadron overseas No. 418 with a record of 155 enemy aircraft destroyed, seven probably destroyed and 71 damaged.

The Maple Leaf said the scores were subject to amendment and based on a preliminary assessment of squadron records.
Other scores were: 401 Squadron—destroyed 123, probably destroyed 55, damaged 103; 403 Squadron—destroyed 109, probably destroyed 11, damaged 67; 412 Squadron—destroyed 111, probably destroyed 10, damaged 40.

The paper pointed out that 418 Squadron was an intruder squadron with a different function from day fighters and its total included a "comparatively high percentage" of planes destroyed on the ground.

The paper also listed flying-bomb scores crediting 418 Squadron with 90½ destroyed; 409 with 10 destroyed and 402 with 3½ destroyed.

Says Scrutineers Needed at Polls

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — George H. Castle, C.C.F. member of Parliament for Yorkton, Sask., in an address to a C.C.F. meeting Sunday spoke of the importance of having alert, experienced election scrutineers and said: "Even as late as this summer there was dirty work at the polls in Saskatchewan. I maintain that Mr. Gardiner (Minister of Agriculture J. G. Gardiner) has no right to sit in the House of Commons. We did not have the money to carry it through, but it was proved that ballots had been tampered with."
Mr. Gardiner won in his Saskatchewan constituency of Melville by 28 votes, defeating H. J. Benson, C.C.F. candidate and his only opponent.

At inquiry conducted before Chief Justice J. T. Brown of the Saskatchewan Court of King Bench, sitting as a one-man commission, Returning Officer George Hunt said there was "no sign or suspicion" of any tampering with ballot boxes or ballots used in the vote after all were returned to his office June 16.)

Veterans Late Home As Train Delayed

Missed boat connections when a troop train was overdue 70 hours at Vancouver brought disappointment to Victoria families who waited Saturday afternoon for their men to arrive home after long service overseas. Only 15 of the 60 island men, who reached Canada aboard the Ile de France, arrived Saturday afternoon.

Some of those who missed the boat made their way over by boat to Nanaimo and then by bus to Victoria. Others came over Sunday.

A disappointing homecoming awaited L. Cpl. W. J. Turcotte who had to go to St. Joseph's Hospital to see his mother, who is ill.

Bdsn. A. L. Stevens, Canadian Scottish, also had a cloud over his arrival. He had to visit hospital where his wife is seriously ill. He was greeted by many friends and relatives. Overseas five years, Bdsn. Stevens' home is at 802 Craigflower Road.

Sgt. G. A. Warren, R.C.A., wanted to have a good 30-day leave and start making a home. He was welcomed by his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Warren, Saanichton. He served in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany.

Trapp Family's Purest Music Thrills Victoria Audience

By AUDREY ST-D. JOHNSON

An informal family gathering for the unsophisticated performance and enjoyment of the purest music, was the impression created Saturday night at the Royal Victoria Theatre by the unique Trapp family; a group of singers and instrumentalists consisting of mother, Baroness Maria Von Trapp, and seven daughters. Their conductor, Dr. Franz Wanner, composes and arranges many of their selections and in addition contributes his mellow baritone voice to the ensemble.

Musically the group was most satisfying and refreshing. The pure, lyric quality of the voices, perfectly controlled, blended and balanced into a single sensitive instrument gave the impression of the music being recreated through them, rather than performed by them. The first part of the program included two Mozart numbers, "Ave Maria" and a canon, "Bed is Cossy," and a gay madrigal from the early English composer, Thomas Morley, "Sing We and Chant It."

OLD INSTRUMENTS

In this section also were heard the instrumental selections performed on instruments seldom heard today. The virginal or spinet dating from the beginning of the 16th century and the sweet-toned recorders, an early type of flute, which appeared in Europe about the 11th century from Asia, where they apparently originated. Of particular interest was the group of Austrian folk-songs and yodels, which latter Baroness Von Trapp explained, though wordless, contained a language thoroughly understood by the mountain folk. In further illustration of this, two of the singers gave an interpretation of quarreling in which one had always the last word.

The encores given were particularly delightful, outstanding being the singing of Bach's choral, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," accompanied by recorder and virginal. The Echo Song, in which Hedwig Von Trapp supplied the echo off stage to Agatha Von Trapp's clear soprano brought an ovation from the audience. "Silent Night," sung first in German, then in English, was greatly enjoyed as were the simple, sincere renderings of the French-Canadian folk-song, "A la Claire Fontaine" and the "Children's Prayer" from Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel."

Unions Protest To Ottawa On Use Of Troops in East

Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference, representing both C.C.L. and A. F. or L. unions on the island, will protest to both the Canadian government and the International Labor Office the use of troops in the East Indies to put down the popular front.

This action was decided at a meeting Sunday night at the Labor Hall following considerable discussion on a motion. Finally the motion that wires be sent to the government and the labor office carried.

New delegates seated were Judy Arnold for the Retail Clerks' Union, E. J. Taylor, W. B. White, H. Hayward and L. Whalen for the Shipyard General Workers' Federation branch of the Boilermakers' Union.

Delegates were asked to urge to their unions that workers register on the civic voters' lists immediately since the lists close very soon.

Following reports that disabled veterans were not being equipped with the best artificial limbs available it was moved and carried that the conference write the Canadian Legion to get facts on the question. If necessary the conference will give support to have the type of artificial limbs improved.

Veterans Affairs Minister Ian Mackenzie will be asked to replace O. Camprey of Vancouver, chairman of a regional employment and re-establishment committee, in favor of a chairman with veteran and industrial experience.

NEW AGREEMENTS

Ray Simmons reporting for the International Woodworkers of America, said that union had successfully negotiated agreements with Manning Lumber Co. and Moore-Whittington Lumber Co. R. F. Williams reported for the Federation of Telephone Workers that an excellent agreement had been obtained for the garage employees of the B.C. Telephone Co.

George Wilkinson, reporting for the Auto Workers' Union, urged all union members to support the attempts of that union to hold a uniform working day and working week for that group. Delegates present endorsed the request and all union members will be asked to observe the standard day.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT OIL

HOW AN Oil Well Works

This is a picture of a typical Canadian oil well. It might be in Alberta's famous Turner Valley, where the average well is about 8,000 feet deep. In other fields, wells today are drilled down more than two miles! When the drill strikes into an oil-bearing formation, the underground pressure of millions of cubic feet of gas drives the oil up the drilled hole to the surface.

A rotary drill bit

Two ways of drilling

There are two methods of drilling in use today. One of them, the cable-tool method, is a modification of the system used by the Chinese in drilling for salt 2,000 years ago. The drill "bit" is like a cold chisel and pounds its way through the rock.

The rotary drill, illustrated at the left, was perfected in fairly recent times and acts much like a mechanic's drill. Because it gives high speed cutting through the rock formations, it has largely replaced the cable tool drill in most Canadian oil fields.

The first steps

Before the drill can go into operation, a "cellar" about 20 feet deep and 10 feet square is dug. Then a derrick of wood or steel is erected. A large derrick would be about 140 feet high, with a 30-foot base. It may carry as much as 1,000,000 pounds of drilling equipment, as shown in the little sketch alongside.

"Stands" of drill pipe stacked in the "rig"

The drilling tools are inserted in a "string" about 50 feet long. As the drill goes down, the "string" is lengthened by addition of extra drill pipe. Periodically, the "string" is removed and the sides of the well lined with a steel casing for support.

The hazards of drilling

Sometimes the drill tools break, far below the surface, and several days, even weeks, may be wasted in "fishing" for the lost tools. But the greatest hazard of all in drilling for oil is the risk of a "dry hole". All the science

This message is the fourth of a series; the next advertisement will tell "The Story of a Failure".

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

Geologist's core drill brings up samples of rock strata from under the earth's surface

Cross-section of earth structures under a producing oil well of the geologist has not yet perfected a way of making certain, before drilling starts, that oil will be found. Many and many a well proves a complete failure—dealing a discouraging blow, not only to the drillers, but to the company and the investors who have invested many thousands of dollars in the work.

Why the work must go on

Yet all producing oil companies must face this risk and go on undaunted. For oil wells sooner or later are exhausted and the oil industry must find new sources continuously. Unless it did, shortages of gasoline, lubricants and other petroleum products would eventually stop our cars, trucks, airplanes—even our factories.

In many parts of Canada, and in South America, Imperial Oil Limited and its producing organizations have drilled more than 8,000,000 feet in search of oil... holes totalling more than 1,515 miles of drilling! Many of the wells were failures, many miles were drilled in vain. Yet, thanks to "keeping everlastingly at it," we are able to supply a large part of Canada's needs for oil products... and through the continuous exploration of Canada's oil lands our scientists and engineers are developing a valuable natural resource that adds to the wealth of the nation, and the well-being of every Canadian.

GENE TIERNEY seems pleased with the attention being showered on her by soft-voiced Vincent Price, but Dana Andrews and Clifton Webb are short of enthusiasm about the whole situation in this scene from "Laura," the new 20th Century-Fox mystery-drama hit, opening today at the York Theatre. The story of a strange and perilous experiment in love and murder, "Laura" is based on Vera Caspary's sensational best-seller whose setting is the fabulous era of New York's prewar cafe society.

'Along Came Jones' Opens at Capitol

Thrill-packed action and sparkling romance vie with gay comedy in "Along Came Jones," starring Gary Cooper and Loretta Young, is now at the Capitol Theatre.

This refreshingly novel action drama gives Cooper one of his finest roles as a quixotic ranger-riding who, in order to do a favor for a lady, poses as a notorious bandit in spite of the fact that he's the world's most inept bad man. The earnest endeavors of various parties to kill the pseudo-outlaw on sight, the vindictive jealousy of the real bandit, and the tangled emotions of a frontier girl who is trying to help the masquerader escape, all make for dramatic complications that frequently have their hilarious side before the stirring climax is reached.

William Demarest plays Cooper's pal and Dan Duryea portrays the menace, in this International Picture, with Frank Sully, Don Costello, Willard Robertson and others in prominent roles.

Wilde's 'Dorian Gray' Showing at Atlas

Novelty, strange drama, and a punch in the complacency—these are the qualities which make M.G.M.'s "The Picture of Dorian Gray," a daring version of Oscar Wilde's classic tale, which opens today at the Atlas Theatre, the kind of screenplay moviegoers will remember for years.

Some may be shocked at George Sanders, expert portrayer of unusual characters, who, as the satanic, but cultured, Lord Henry Wotton, will keep audiences absorbedly entertained even while they try to hate him. It is through him that some of Oscar Wilde's best-known epigrams and sarcasms—challenging ideas of morals, marriage and ethics—are delivered. Sanders, best-known for his work in "The Saint" series and in "The Falcon" stories, and more recently seen in "Action in Arabia," took to the role with a great zest. He is a different kind of "heavy," dominating the youthful and impressionable Dorian Grey intellectually, and upsetting complacent, smug souls wherever he goes.

Romance and Murder In 'Laura' at York

Jaded movie-goers are bound to find something thrillingly different in exciting screen entertainment when 20th Century-Fox's "Laura," starring Gene Tierney, Dana Andrews and Clifton Webb opens today at the York Theatre.

Packed with high suspense from beginning to end, "Laura" combines thrills with the most unusual romance ever filmed in the story of a strange and perilous experiment in love—and murder. Set against the dazzling background of New York's pre-Pearl Harbor sophisticated cafe society, the film presents Gene Tierney as a chic advertising executive; Andrews as a sharp-eyed, romantic detective and Clifton Webb as a "fabulous man-about-town."

Also featured in the brilliant cast are Vincent Price and Judith Anderson. "Laura" was produced and directed by Otto Preminger.

'Blossom Time' At Royal Nov. 9, 10

Not in the history of light musical plays, or for that matter, lyric productions of any kind—has there been a production that has enjoyed the undiminished approbation that has been showered upon the Franz Schubert operetta "Blossom Time," which comes to the Royal Theatre Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9 and 10.

Season after season this charming creation has been sent on tour, yet it is still provided with all the essentials of cast, costumes and scenery to sustain its reputation of being the most perfect and most beautiful piece of its kind ever known to the stage. The foundation for the story of "Blossom Time" is the romance of the great composer, Franz Schubert. His struggles for recognition; the great romance of his life, as developed in his love for "Mitzi," the daughter of "Kranz," the court jeweler, and the misunderstanding by which this affair of the heart is moved into different channels, are set forth in most absorbing manner in the book of the operetta. With such a basis, it is natural to suppose that a fitting musical score can be given with some of the hundreds of immortal songs and melodies which were composed by this extraordinary genius. More than 20 of Schubert's most beautiful themes are embraced in the score of "Blossom Time," giving it the highest place, melodically, ever achieved by a light musical production.

Further distinction is given the piece by the beautiful costumes and elaborate settings, all of which have been prepared new for the present season.

Among the featured players in the large and excellent cast are Edmund Dorsey, Ruth Gillette, Tom Barry, Zella Russell, Harry K. Morton, Marian Stevens, Frank Farrell and Ann Lay. The orchestra is under the direction of Harry Archer.

"Louisiana Hayride" Columbia Pictures' zany streamlined comedy starring Judy Canova, queen of the country's hey, hey, fields, is now at the Rio Theatre. This picture is said to be Judy's zaniest mad-cap role to date.

Also included in the cast are Rose Hunter, Richard Lane, Lloyd Bridges, Matt Willis and Hobart Cavanaugh. Charles Barton directed from the screenplay by Paul Yawitz.

Smythe Moves Out Of Racing Game

TORONTO (CP)—Maj. Connie Smythe, on the unshakable theory a fellow can't devote all his time to two sports at the same time, has given up his racing stable for hockey.

The dapper general manager of Toronto's National Hockey League Maple Leafs closed out his turf string with the private sale recently of the mares Second Helping and Doggerel. The blue and white silks, carried to many triumphs on Ontario and United States tracks, have been put away.
